ARMY AND NAVY MUST BE ENLARGED

LORD ROBERTS SOUNDS
NOTE OF WARNING

Would Treat Rich and Poor Alike in Matter of Compulsory Training

London, Sept. 25.—Field Marshal Lord Roberts, speaking at Norwich yesterday, uttered a solemn warning to England with regard to her preparedness for war.

He stated that the navy must be further increased and that the army must be sufficient in numbers, as well as efficiency. The navy should be freed of the necessity of being tied to British shores.

Lord Roberts argued further that compulsory training furnishes the only chance for the British to hold their own against the highly-trained forces of foreigners. Therefore, he contended, that the only workable system should be to treat the rich and poor alike in the matter of this training.

NEW JERSEY PRIMARIES.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 25.—That Governor Wilson won a sweeping victory in the New Jersey primaries yesterday was evident on the returns which were turned in to-day. Governor Wilson carried the state by a plurality of nearly 100,000. In his fight to prevent the nomination for United States Senator of former United States Senator James Smith, Jr. The Progressives did not figure in the voting.

BODIES FOUND IN RAPIDS.

La Pas, Man., Sept. 25.—The bodies of three of the Gun Hydrographic survey party, drowned in the Cross Lake extension of the Saskatchewan, have been recovered. The names of those found were Hugh W. Cochran, Thomas C. A. White and Fred McLeish, of Winnipeg. The body of William McMillan, of Lindsay, Ontario, has not yet been found. The bodies were buried at Grand Rapids, Man.

WEATHER FAVORABLE FOR HARVESTING

Threshing Will Soon Be General in Manitoba—No Rain
for Several Days

Winnipeg, Sept. 25.—In spite of the frost of Monday night and rain all over the province for the past few weeks there appears to have been very little damage done to the crops in Manitoba, as far as can be learned at present. Reports generally say that there had been no rain for the past few days and the indications are that a cool, dry period has set in with conditions favorable to the resumption of harvest operations. There is still a large quantity of grain not cut in the northern portion of the province where threshing has not yet begun.

THREE PERSONS INJURED.

Triangular Collision Between Street
Car, Automobile and Freight Train.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 25.—Three people were badly hurt in a triangular collision between a street car, an automobile and a freight train yesterday afternoon at First avenue south and Railroad way. C. B. Lamont, assistant to President J. V. Patterson, of the Seattle Construction & Drydock Company, was thrown under the moving train and dragged a distance of sixty feet before it was brought to a stop. Lamont's presence of mind in grasping a bar on the bottom of a car when thrown under the train is all that saved him from death under the wheels of the freight train. The street car, a First avenue car, rammed into the freight and was derailed. A panic ensued among the passengers and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Longmore, of 717 Forty-fifth avenue north, sustained injuries which necessitated them being taken to a hospital. Lamont is suffering from severe cuts and bruises about the legs and hips, possibly internal injuries and nervous shock. The automobile, driven by John T. Heffernan, president and treasurer of the Heffernan Drydock Company, was wrecked. The street car, in charge of Conductor T. H. Anderson, was badly damaged.

All the glass in the street car was broken, its lights were torn off and the front end badly smashed.

FUNERAL OF LATE SIR R. CARTWRIGHT

INTERMENT WILL TAKE PLACE ON THURSDAY

Leaders of Both Parties Pay
Eloquent Tribute to Dead Statesmen

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 25.—The funeral of the late Sir Richard Cartwright will take place from the family residence, "The Maples," at Cartwright's Point, on Thursday afternoon to St. Mark's Anglican church, where Rev. O. G. Dobbs, of Brockville, a cousin of Sir Richard, will conduct the services. The interment will be made in Cataraugus cemetery.

Tribute From Leaders.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday paid the following tribute to the late Sir Richard Cartwright: "I have lost in Sir Richard one of my oldest personal friends. I was associated with him for more than thirty years."

"As leader of the party, my relations with him were at all times most cordial. If there arose between us differences of opinion, it was never difficult to satisfactorily adjust them. Sir Richard was a very strong man, but those only who were intimately associated with him knew of his chivalrous nature."

"He was a patriot, a thorough gentleman and a charming man."

Premier Borden paid a warm tribute to the late Sir Richard Cartwright:

"The death of Sir Richard Cartwright comes as a shock to those who have been his colleagues in parliament, whether on one or other side of the House of Commons," said the prime minister. "He has been a great figure in the public life of Canada for more than forty years, and no one can forget his strong personality, his wonderful power in debate, or the remarkable contrast between the extreme kindness of his disposition in private life and his great command of attack and invective in debate, whether upon the hustings or in parliament. He was in every sense a great parliamentarian and familiar with the development of parliamentary government."

"I recall one instance which will illustrate the kindness of his nature and his innate courtesy. A few years after I had become leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, Sir Charles Tupper, not then a member of parliament, came by the invitation of the Speaker, and took a seat on the floor of the House. These two men had been redoubtable protagonists for many years and had engaged in an attack upon each other with a vigor which is seldom witnessed in these days. As Sir Richard saw Sir Charles he made his way slowly (for he walked with great difficulty by aid of a cane) through the passage back of the Speaker's chair in order to greet his old antagonist."

"To Lady Cartwright and the members of the family the sympathy of all Canadian citizens will be extended in the fullest measure."

Hon. J. A. Loughheed, who, in his capacity as Conservative leader in the Upper Chamber, was closely associated with Sir Richard Cartwright both as government leader and later leader of the Liberal opposition in the Senate, said:

"No man could have been more courteous, kindly or considerate. No one better observed the amenities of debate or set a higher example of parliamentary business on the floor of the House. As a debater and as an orator of the old school, of clear thought and chaste language, he had few, if any, peers. He was, with the exception of Sir Charles Tupper, the last survivor of the 'Old Guard,' and his name must always bulk large in Canadian history. He was a typical gentleman of the old school, a statesman rather than a politician."

Senator Loughheed will be present at the funeral in Kingston, the premier being unable to attend on account of his engagement to speak at the Canadian manufacturers' banquet here this week. A wreath was sent to Kingston yesterday on behalf of the government, and another wreath has been sent on behalf of the Senate. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the former cabinet colleagues of Sir Richard are also sending floral tokens.

Sir Wilfrid will attend the funeral, and a number of Liberal ex-ministers will also go to Kingston for the funeral. The death of Sir Richard Cartwright leaves eight vacancies in the Senate to be filled before the session opens. His successor as Liberal leader in the Upper House will probably be Senator Dandurand, a former speaker.

London, Sept. 25.—The Times referring to the late Sir Richard Cartwright, says: "He belonged to a type none too common anywhere and extremely rare in a new country. Although a man of wealth and refinement he threw his ease to the winds and devoted himself to politics with a distinguishedness and energy which neither the bitterness of Canadian public life nor a long series of defeats could lessen by a jot."

DROWNED WHILE HUNTING.

Cordova, Alaska, Sept. 25.—Captain Gustavson, of the steamer Oakland, was drowned at Yakutat while hunting.

MORE TROUBLE FOR R. L.

MOUNT WRANGELL AGAIN IN ERUPTION

U. S. Army Officer Reports That Lava is Flowing From Across Glacier

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 25.—Mail advices from Valdez, Alaska, say Mount Wrangell, the most widely-known of the smoking volcanoes of Alaska, is again in eruption. Lieut. Prosser, of the signal corps, who returned to Valdez from a trip of inspection along the military telegraph line between Valdez and Fairbanks, reported that Mount Wrangell is throwing out large volumes of smoke and lava. Instead of one crater there are now at least seven craters and with the aid of field glasses lava can be seen issuing from the openings and flowing down across the glacier. This is believed to be the explanation of the high water in the streams running in that district. From Kotatna it is reported that the sulphurous fumes are so strong that prospectors working near Kotatna Glacier have been driven out.

POLICEMAN ELECTROCUTED.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—One policeman was instantly killed, another rendered unconscious and a number of others were less seriously shocked while attempting to report from call-boxes in West Philadelphia late yesterday, when the police telephone wire became heavily charged with electricity from a feed wire.

ALBERTA ELECTIONS SET FOR NOVEMBER

Twelve New Seats Will Be Created at Session
Next Month

Edmonton, Sept. 25.—The Alberta general elections will be held between November 15 and 25. At a session of the legislature in October a redistribution bill will be passed and twelve seats added. Edmonton and Calgary each will have three members.

HOMESEEKERS' RATES.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Homesekers' rates to Pacific coast points will not be discontinued next year, as was suggested recently by two of the leading western railroads. The referendum of the railroads has decided in favor of a continuance during the year 1913, of the rates now in effect, which are on a basis of $65 for the round trip from Chicago, $82.50 from St. Louis and $55 from Missouri River points.

The wage of four shillings and sevenpence a day will be continued and not reduced and other work will be given those miners who are unable to earn wages at piece work.

PORTUGUESE SUSPECTS THROWN INTO JAILS

Thousands of Alleged Conspirators Awaiting Trial—
Terrorism Rampant

London, Sept. 25.—A special message from Lisbon says that the staff of the Portuguese Republic is in a serious condition. There is a general decay in commerce, and a slackness in business. The rich are leaving the country and the poor are emigrating in large numbers. The prisons are crowded with prisoners accused of conspiracy against the republic. In one district alone there are a thousand prisoners awaiting trial. Terrorism and violence in administration are rampant while all newspapers which are opposed to the magogism have been suspended.

ANTI-HOME RULE FIGHT.

Portadown, Ireland, Sept. 25.—Determination not to submit to Home Rule was expressed to-day by 20,000 Orangemen and Unionists, residents of the county of Armagh, Ulster. They had assembled in the birthplace of Orangemen to welcome Sir Edward Carson and other Unionist leaders.

THIRTY SOLDIERS KILLED.

Cuernavaca, Mex., Sept. 25.—Ambushed at Ojo de Agua, Captain Escobedo and seven of his thirty soldiers were killed by rebels yesterday. On receipt of the news here, Senora Sofia Moneda, an actress and sweetheart of Escobedo, committed suicide.

TRIES TO END LIFE.

Grand Forks, B. C., Sept. 25.—James Miller, for the past summer employed on construction work on the new C. P. R. bridge near the Granby, smelter, but now working on another bridge a mile east of this city, endeavored to commit suicide yesterday by taking two hundred and twenty grains of morphine. He was brought to the Cottage hospital in this city and at a late hour last night was still alive, with a possible chance of recovery. It is stated that Miller has been brooding over some troubles for the past month and it has evidently worked on his mind so strongly that he thought he had lived long enough. He is 35 years old and has a brother residing at Spadina, B. C.

CLARENCE DARROW'S TRIAL.

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 25.—Acting Governor A. J. Wallace has named Judge W. M. Connelley of Madera county, to sit as a trial judge at the trial of Clarence S. Darrow in Los Angeles, beginning October 21, when the second charge of jury-bribery in connection with the McNamara case will be called. Darrow was acquitted on the first charge.

When the date for the second trial was set, the superior judges of Los Angeles county asked to be relieved from sitting, as the publicity given the first case had tended to prejudice their minds.

TRYING TO SOLVE BALKANS PROBLEM

POWERS AGREE TO EXCHANGE OF VIEWS

Austrian Foreign Minister Says
Danger of Conflict is Not Yet Over

Vienna, Sept. 25.—The Balkan situation has aroused the deepest interest in Austria. Emperor Joseph has suggested an exchange of views between the powers on the important questions now at issue, and Count Leopold von Berchtold, the Austrian foreign minister, in a statement to the foreign affairs committee of the Hungarian Diet yesterday made reference to the proposals he had submitted to the powers for an exchange of views.

He said that the result was the unanimous co-operation of the powers and a pledge for the prevention of a violent solution of the Balkan crisis. The minister added:

"It would, however, be a serious mistake if, because of this, we regarded the danger of the present situation as being averted."

Count von Berchtold said unsatisfactory conditions in European Turkey had seriously affected the neighboring countries, imposing upon their statesmen a heavy task.

"We trust," he continued, "that Turkey will not fail to recognize the gravity of the situation and find a way to avoid complications. Our information justifies the assumption that the present Turkish government is diligently endeavoring to provide necessary guarantees for the reasonable requirements of the various nationalities."

"Our interests lie in the maintenance of the territorial integrity of Turkey and her national consolidation. We regard it as the duty of Turkish statesmen to reconcile the legitimate claims of the different peoples of Macedonia with the exigencies of the Ottoman states. Honest endeavor to bring about the solution of this problem will find our moral support."

The foreign minister concluded: "Diplomacy is keeping guard to prevent the threatened conflict and stifle a possible Balkan conflagration. Our geographical position places us near the area of disturbance and the great interests of the monarchy are at stake, only when we are armed by land and sea can we look to the future with easy minds."

German Views.

Cologne, Sept. 25.—An apparently inspired Berlin dispatch to the Cologne Gazette indicates that the German government views the league of Balkan countries with profound distrust. The government believes that this alliance is not for defensive purposes, but is purely a business undertaking to wrest political concessions from Turkey with the intention presently to demand the first instalment in the shape of certain advantages for Bulgaria, Serbia, Montenegro and Greece, but ultimately a joint war looking to the territorial extension of the allies.

Official circles discredit the English newspaper reports that the powers have represented to Turkey the necessity of immediate reforms with the alternative of intervention by the powers. This, according to the general view, could not possibly be true, since the powers have not yet been consulted in this sense.

Fighting in Albania.

Cettinje, Montenegro, Sept. 25.—The situation in northern Albania is becoming worse daily. The Malesotti tribesmen are advancing on Scutari. They attacked an ammunition column going to Quet. More than a hundred of the escorting troops were killed or captured. The ammunition was sunk in Scutari lake.

TRIES TO END LIFE.

Grand Forks, B. C., Sept. 25.—James Miller, for the past summer employed on construction work on the new C. P. TRAINING OF THE BOY SCOUTS

GEN. HAMILTON FAVORS
EXTENSION OF SYSTEM

Would Include Lads in Attendance at Public and Private Schools

London, Sept. 25.—Suspicion which for some time has been abroad that the enthusiastic support given in high quarters to the Boy Scout movement is intended to pave the way towards a modified form of compulsory service, a suspicion which is received with equal degrees of favor or distrust according to the individual citizen's point of view, was in a measure confirmed yesterday in a speech of Sir Ian Hamilton, inspector-general of the overseas forces.

"Why not be frank even with the eight per cent. of our boy population already organized?" declared the general. "Why not tell them the simple truth, that the state sets the highest value, some seventy to eighty millions per annum in terms of hard cash, upon the acquisition of the arts of attack and defence? Why not, indeed, because many of the amateurs, the boy, idealists, who have started these corps of boy scouts, are so afraid of the opinions of some of their wealthy supporters that they hesitate to countenance so much even as the word 'corps' in connection with their corps. In England we have enthusiasts who entice boys into these corps by using the panoply of war as a basis, intending all the time to turn them into plaster saints. What remedies have we? Honesty is the best and only remedy. Let us look things squarely in the face and press for compulsory cadet training in all schools, public or private. The majority of voters want it, and they ought to have their way. We must help Baden-Powell by giving him school-trained and disciplined boys to work upon with his voluntary system. Every healthy boy must be carefully and thoroughly as he is now trained to read and write. A boy must be called in protesting the cadet corps are aiming at nothing more serious than physical drill. Let us concentrate on the inclusion in the estimates of £1,300,000 wherewith to begin training next spring 75,000 boys aged twelve and under fourteen."

ANNEXATION TO GREECE DEMANDED

Uprisings Are Threatened in Islands of Samos and Crete

Perpignan, France, Sept. 25.—The French minister of war, M. Millerand, has ordered the Twenty-fourth Regiment of colonial infantry to be got in readiness to proceed to Crete and Samos. In both of these islands uprisings are threatened. In support of the demand for annexation to Greece.

Turkey dispatched 800 troops from Smyrna to Samos, a Greek island off the west coast of Asia Minor, to quell the trouble which arose a few days ago after the departure of a French warship. Sofia, a local leader, landed a body of men from the island of Nicara, which has proclaimed its independence.

British and French warships have already been ordered to Samos. The island of Crete is an autonomous state under a high commissioner of the four powers—Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy—subject to the suzerainty of the Porte.

FIGHTING EXTRADITION.

Alleged Bank Robber, Arrested in Detroit, Has Appealed to Higher Court.

New Westminster, Sept. 25.—The Bank of Montreal has received word that Martin Powell, the alleged bank robber arrested in Detroit, has appealed to the higher court against his extradition to Canada.

W. H. G. Phipps, accountant of the Bank of Montreal, will leave in a day or two for Toronto, where he will give evidence against Walsh and his wife. The report from Chicago that a Greek thief tried to pass a $20,000 bill stolen from the Bank is denied here, as the largest bill stolen were twenty-five. The robbers were so afraid of large denominations that they left two $500 bills lying on the floor of the vault when they made their getaway.

CARDINAL FOR CANADA.

London, Sept. 25.—Canada is to be granted a cardinal at the next consistory in the person of Monsignor Bruchesi, of Montreal, according to the Milan correspondent of the Daily Chronicle. The Pope's decision, he says, is largely due to anomalous which have reached the vatican respecting the archbishop's mastery ability as displayed at the eucharistic congress held in Montreal.

GIRL'S RECORD SWIM.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 25.—Miss Nellie Schmidt, the 19-year-old girl who recently won distinction by being the first of her sex to swim across San Francisco bay, swam around Seal Rocks in the ocean outside the entrance to the bay. The feat was never accomplished by either man or woman previously. Miss Schmidt swam fully a mile over a circuitous course, and made the distance in the remarkable time of 35 minutes 25 seconds.

The Golden Gate life-saving crew, in command of Capt. Norman Nelson, rowed a short distance ahead of her on the trip.

MAKE TRIP ALONG THE SKEENA RIVER

ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME FOR ROYAL VISITORS

Indians Present Address Expressing Loyalty to His Majesty

Prince Rupert, B. C., Sept. 25.—Yesterday morning the royal party were taken on a special train over the G. T. P. as far as Van Arsdol. General Supt. McLean, of the G. T. P., was the host of the party in his private car. Unfortunately the equinoctial season interfered with the mountain scenery along the Skeena, clouds hanging low over the foothills and rain adding further to the obscurity of the headlands. At fishing stations and other places along the route crowds gathered to cheer the royal party. The governor-general was extremely pleased with the excellent condition of the tracks and the smoothness of travel, and on being told the train was scheduled to run 35 miles an hour, expressed the conviction that this speed was being exceeded. Colonel Lowther timed the train, when it was found the special was making over 40 miles an hour.

After the return to Prince Rupert a party of Indians from Hazelton and Klappan were received at the steamer. In the evening the royal party was entertained at dinner by Bishop Du Vernet and Mrs. Du Vernet, Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., and Mrs. Clements, Mr. Wm. Manson, M. P., and Mrs. Manson, Archdeacon and Mrs. Collinson.

In the midst of the general celebration came a sad note when their Royal Highnesses received news of the death of Sir Richard Cartwright, and a telegram of condolence, expressing the sympathy of both the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, was forwarded to Lady Cartwright.

The Indians who called on the governor-general last evening represented Kitwiltgah, Hazelton, Glen Vowell, Kigash, Kaho, Kitquena, Kitselas and Kitjaguthan tribes. They were introduced by Rev. Louis Edgar, Methodist missionary, and presented an address expressing loyalty to the present King, and remembrances received from King Edward and Queen Victoria, at the same time offering a pair of heavily and handsomely beaded moccasins to Princess Patricia.

The Duke in reply promised to tell the King of the loyalty and patriotism of the far off children of the King, and how they were staunch supporters of the Empire.

The royal party evinced great interest in the manifestations of the Indians and were particularly struck with the arch of the Kitkatla tribe here, which is surmounted by a picture of Queen Victoria, which was presented to Chief Shakes of the Kitkatla tribe by the late Queen when the old chieftain attended the Jubilee celebration at the Empire's capital.

The members of the royal party in conversation continually referred to the appearance of the Indian bands and the fine performances of the native musicians.

A. M. Tyson, of Vancouver, inspector of Indian agencies, and C. C. Perry, at Metlakatla, are looking after the welfare of the government wards, assisted by Dominion constables attached to the Indian department. A. J. Phillips, of Prince Rupert, and J. F. McDonald, of Queen Charlotte Islands.

VISIT OF ROYAL PARTY TO NANAIMO

Civic Holiday on Friday—Boy Scouts to Form Guard of Honor

Nanaimo, Sept. 25.—At the weekly meeting of the city council Ald. Shepherd moved, seconded by Ald. Forrester, that Friday be declared a civic holiday for all civic employees and that the business men of the city be requested to grant their employees sufficient time off duty in order that they might witness the reception ceremonies in connection with the visit of the royal party to Nanaimo on Friday.

The motion carried without a dissenting voice.

A meeting of the Nanaimo District Council Baden-Powell Boy Scouts was held in the school room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church to arrange for the local Boy Scouts participating in the reception to the Duke on Friday next.

The meeting decided to arrange a guard of honor, and that Scout Master James M. Brown, of No. 3 troop, be commanding officer, with A. H. Brown and Mr. McInnes as assistant scout masters.

The Duke of Connaught and party will have an opportunity of going through the historic Nanaimo bastion, if the plans of the Nanaimo Post-News-Sun carry. At a meeting of the local post it was decided to extend an invitation to the Duke and his party to spend a few minutes in the bastion on the occasion of the royal visit here Friday, and a committee consisting of Messrs. W. F. Norris, George Wilson and Frank Stannard were appointed to confer with the local reception committee to see if their arrangements would permit of the Duke accepting the invitation if he was so disposed.

The bastion will be decorated on the occasion of the Governor-General's visit here. A feature of the decorations will be the flying of the original Hudson Bay ensign in British Columbia, presented to the local post of Native Sons by the Hudson Bay Company some time ago.

ORTIE M'NANIGAL TO GIVE EVIDENCE

Will Be Principal Witness in Dynamiting Case at Indianapolis

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 25.—Ortie McManigal, who was to have been the chief witness for the prosecution in the McNamara dynamite case, and who will be used in the same capacity in the dynamiting case to be tried in Indianapolis, is on his way to the Indiana capital. McManigal left the county jail here on Saturday in company with three detectives.

Trial on October 1. Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—Charged with complicity in the so-called "dynamiting conspiracy," fifty-one men, present or former officials of labor unions, are to appear for trial before Judge Albert B. Anderson and a jury in the federal court of this district on October 1.

Indicted under a federal statute forbidding the transportation of explosives on passenger trains, the defendants are alleged to have been concerned in a nation-wide plot to destroy the property of contractors employing non-union ironworkers, culminating in the explosion in the Los Angeles Times building, which cost twenty-one lives. Fifty-four were indicted by the grand jury in its report of February 6 last, but of this number John J. and James B. McNamara are in San Quentin prison, California, and J. J. McCray, a former member of the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, has not been found by the federal authorities.

Most of the defendants are or have been connected with the Ironworkers' Association, which, since 1905, has been engaged in a struggle with the National Erectors' Association, an organization of structural steel and iron contractors employing non-union workmen. Members of this employers' association suffered loss from more than one hundred explosions from 1905 to 1911.

Ortie McManigal's confession, in which he related that he had been employed by the McNamara brothers and Herbert S. Hockin, acting secretary-treasurer of the Ironworkers' Association, to dynamite bridges and buildings in course of construction by non-union contractors, was the basis of the government's inquiry.

CANADA AND NAVAL DEFENCE

MUST FACE QUESTION IN BUSINESS-LIKE WAY

President of Manufacturers' Association Delivers Address at Convention

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The forty-first annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which opened here yesterday with an attendance of about 400 delegates, spent a very busy day. In the evening the delegates were guests at a reception given by the Ottawa Valley branch of the association at the Chateau Laurier.

The report of the commercial committee presented during the morning, caused an interesting discussion into which a criticism of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries throughout Canada was advanced, it being alleged that they encouraged their directors to purchase supplies and fittings on the other side of the boundary.

The address of President Nathaniel Curry dealt with trade extension, labor and compensation, transportation, reciprocity and imperial defence, and reviewed the growth of Canada's industrial side as shown by the returns of the last census. In his address the president said:

"It is a pleasure to note that our government has opened the way for a freer movement of trade between Canada and the British West Indies.

Let us hope that the negotiations now under way with Australia for a similar treaty of preferential trade will come to a successful issue.

"Let me say just a few words on the naval question that is now so prominently before us. As business men, it should be our constant aim to face business issues in a businesslike way. The protection of our commerce upon the high seas, is a business precaution, for the nation as a whole to adopt, comparable in all respects with the business precaution which our municipalities adopt in affording our property police protection. We don't look to the Motherland to provide the latter, nor should we continue to leave ourselves dependent upon her for the former. The fact that circumstances have compelled us to accept her protection in the past is all the more reason why we should make haste to relieve her of that responsibility now that we are in a position to do something for ourselves.

"The so-called German peril may be a reality, or it may not. I do not know, nor do any of us know. We sincerely hope it is not, for war of any kind is a calamity to be avoided at all costs, save that of national honor. But if we are unanimous in this point, we should also be unanimous as to the wisdom of being prepared to defend ourselves against any emergency, however great. Instead of temporizing with vain surmises, we should rather pay heed to the actions of those who are charged with the responsibility for providing that defence.

"If criticism can be obviated and party feeling assuaged by the government taking into its confidence the leader of the opposition and his lieutenants so much better. By all means let such a conference be had, and had quickly. But in any event let us have action; let us make our likes and dislikes to the end, that something be accomplished, and placing all politics aside, let us unite in the performance of what is a plain duty and so declare to the world at large that at least we are a nation."

Reverting to matters more directly concerning the manufacturers, Mr. Curry touched very briefly upon the situation and the friendly relations that on the whole they have been able to maintain with those in their employ.

"The great need of Canada to-day as I see it is not wider markets, but an equipment and a service that will enable us better to supply the demands of the home market. In other words, what we want is transportation, more transportation and better transportation.

"The railways are striving manfully to meet the situation. Millions upon millions are being poured into improvements that we forget to give them credit for; but relief cannot be had in a day. It is apparent that the west must have more railways, and more equipment to bring the grain to the elevators at the head of the lakes. There the storage will have to be increased, and so on throughout the entire system.

"Canadian ports will never enjoy a development commensurate with the growth and prosperity of the rest of the Dominion so long as they are saddled with the insurance incubus. Already they have suffered irreparable injury because of business that should not be permanently diverted to the United States, and if the remedy is much longer delayed it may give our competitors an advantage and prove to us a handicap from which we can never recover."

SECTION HAND MURDERED.

Medford, Ore., Sept. 25.—The body of George Dacotus, a Southern Pacific section hand, was found under a warehouse here. His throat was cut and his head smashed beyond recognition. Several hundred dollars and a gold watch which he was known to have had on his person Saturday night are missing. When Dacotus did not appear for work suspicion was aroused, and a mongrel dog was put on his trail at a Greek poolroom, where Dacotus was last seen. The dog led the searching party almost directly to the body.

John Doe warrants have been issued for two unknown Greeks who visited Dacotus on Saturday and planned to return to Greece with him.

SEWER COMMITTEE CLOSES INQUIRY

FEW FRESH FACTS AT SEVENTH SESSION

Representative of Dominion
Glazed Cement Pipe Company on Stand

The sewer investigation closed last evening, without much further information coming to light from the witnesses examined. The principal testimony came from Edward R. Vigor, general agent for the Dominion Glazed Cement Pipe Company, from whom the city purchased the cement pipe in December.

The committee will meet as soon as the stenographic report is ready, all the evidence being now available. Seven sessions have been held, and a large number of past and present members of the engineering staff, and officials, from city engineer down to men engaged in the trenches, have been heard. The committee, however, has failed to discover why the alteration from cement to vitrified pipe was made in the northeast sewer, although Alderman Gleason has been very insistent that the information should, in some way or other become available. The report will be prepared and submitted to the city council as soon as possible.

C. Heardon
The former superintendent of sewer laterals, C. Heardon, stated that he was engaged with the city for about 15 months prior to June last, and was a "jack of all trades." He said that Superintendent of Construction Worswick introduced, in January a system for keeping accounts and track of material which would enable the cost of all work to be ascertained immediately. A record of the price of labor on each job was also kept. He suddenly found himself relieved of his duties in June, with an explanation that with the abolition of the construction office, his services would not be required any further.

Asked if he had formed an opinion on the administration of the department he replied: "I have had a good many thoughts."

Alderman Humber asked for a more specific statement, and witness again replied: "They cease to be thoughts when I speak them." Witness continued: "I do not care to express my opinion." No pressure had been brought to bear on him to make appointments, but he believed he might have been forced to appoint incompetent men, had outside pressure forced his hand, as he believed it had in some cases in the city.

In answer to Ald. O'Neil he said he had recommended changes in certain officials, notably Mr. O'Meara—verbal suggestions generally.

Witness denied there had been slackness in putting in laterals, and other connections. He had not been associated with the reservoir construction, if he had, perhaps, it would not have cost the city $100,000 to repair.

Frank N. Stafford, superintendent of surface drain construction in the Worswick management, offered to leave with the committee copies of data he collected on the work. The system from January 1, to June 15, when he was relieved of his duties was satisfactory, and was a correct record of work done. The cost of same should be on file with the engineering department.

J. Nixon
J. Nixon, now a sidewalk foreman, gave some information with reference to the St. Charles street surface drain, of which he was foreman at one time. Expressing the opinion that he thought the St. Charles street was well done, Alderman Humber observed to witness: "I don't think you are a mechanic." Witness: "A good job wouldn't all think alike."

Witness observed that the material at St. Charles street was as good as they could expect, which led Alderman Humber to say: "Then you don't agree with Mr. Rust?"

Witness: "It was as good as we can get except from Seattle, or if the city used vitrified brick."

He received his appointment from Mr. Donovan, but afterwards acted under Mr. Owen, the present superintendent of sidewalk construction.

Alderman Gleason: "Did you have enough laborers for the bricklayers at St. Charles street surface drain?"

Witness replied in the negative, stating that at times a bricklayer, 20 feet down, could use the services of half a dozen men. They laid on an average of 1,100 bricks a day at that sewer, at times rising as high as 1,700.

J. H. Owen
Superintendent of Maintenance and Permanent Sidewalks J. H. Owen, was the next witness. Among his duties was superintendent of brickwork on the St. Charles street surface drain, as he was a practical bricklayer, and claimed there was not poor work done, nor that the work was over staffed. The citizens received 100 cents worth of work on the dollar nor was the material bad.

Alderman Humber: "That exonerates Humber also?" (laughter.)
He did not offer observations on the methods of work, for that was not his position.

C. N. Tubman.

C. N. Tubman, former superintendent on the northeast sewer, took the stand for the fourth time, and said the order for pipe was on his desk, to figure out how many "Y" pieces would be required, when the timekeeper, Mr. Angus, took it away and put through the order, which had to be altered accordingly. He knew that the council had discussed abandoning cement pipe, and regarded it as a foregone conclusion that the council had altered its arrangement as to the class of pipe to be used on the northeast sewer. He had not consulted with any official about the vitrified pipe order before it went in to the purchasing agent.

Cement Company's Agent.

The representative of the Dominion Glazed Cement Pipe Company, Vancouver, Edward R. Vigor, said the order was placed last year, and the pipe was manufactured according to specification under the supervision of an inspector for the city engineer. Delivery was first made to Haultain street, but the delivery there was stopped by orders of former City Engineer Smith. The explanation he gave was that the city was not prepared to accept it.

Ald. Gleason: "That was his explanation to you?"

Witness: "He made no other statement."

Witness said he made some inquiries in the city hall, but could get no satisfaction. He saw the mayor and was referred to Alderman Stewart.

Ald. Gleason: "What connection had Alderman Stewart with the matter?"

Witness: "I don't know."

Ald. Gleason: "Were you referred to the engineer by the mayor?"

Witness: "No."

Alderman Gleason: "Nor the sewers committee?"

Witness: "No; I was told simply what the sewers committee had done."

Alderman Gleason: "Did you interview Alderman Stewart?"

Witness: "Yes; he told me he was opposed to concrete pipe. He said he retained that opinion still."

Another explanation was offered him that the whole matter had been left in the hands of Mr. Rust. At a meeting of the sewers committee he was told that Mr. Rust had advised not to use cement pipe in sewers.

The whole order accordingly had not yet been filed. After delivery to Haultain street was stopped some further shipments for surface drain work went to Edmonton road, and others were stored at the city yards at Garbally road.

Ald. Gleason: "I believe the contract calls for delivery on the work."

Alderman O'Neil said other aldermen opposed the use of cement pipe in deep trenches.

Witness, continuing, said that a committee had inspected the pipe before it was accepted. As far as he knew Mr. Rust had not criticized cement pipe, but rather had said under certain circumstances he had used it.

The inquiry then closed, former Superintendent of Construction Worswick, who had been subpoenaed, not being present.

HON. W. LONG ON

HOME RULE FIGHT

SAYS MEN OF ULSTER WILL STAND FIRM

Declares They Are Ready to Sacrifice Their Lives
If Necessary

Winnipeg, Sept. 25.—"I attach no importance to the report that the King will, on the advice of his ministers, remove Sir Edward Carson from the Privy Council in consequence of his actions in the Ulster rebellion. Nor do I consider it likely that legal action of any kind will be taken against Sir Edward. All talk to that effect is mere bluff."

Just before leaving Winnipeg for the east Right Hon. Walter Long made the above statement. He added to it the remark that he had not considered the possible action of himself in connection with other privy councillors in event of any such unlikely procedure by the Liberal ministry.

Developments in Ulster during last few days have strengthened Mr. Long's conviction that the manifestation of unrest may have most serious results.

"The United Kingdom," said Mr. Long, "is approaching the gravest crisis in its history since the civil war. Ulstermen say they will not have Home Rule, and they are ready to sacrifice their lives in order to prevent it. What they say is not all bluff. No one who knows the men in question should dare to say that it is. There is in the whole United Kingdom no more resolute body of men than these same Ulstermen, no body of men whose declarations are uttered less lightly."

"I set by the press to-day that Mr. T. P. O'Connor thinks the Ulstermen are bluffing. Mr. O'Connor knows as well as I know that they are not bluffing, and he should know better than to say what he has said. I repeat that the situation in Ireland is one of extreme gravity. These Ulstermen are armed; they are gathering in large numbers throughout the province; they meet in cathedrals and churches, and they begin their meetings with prayers. They are men of serious purpose and resolute temper."

Referring to an editorial that appeared recently in a Vancouver paper, in which Mr. Long was represented as being under a wrong impression in respect to the Home Rule bill, he stated that the editorial which he had read was rubbish and a quibble. The editorial in question said that Mr. Long had announced before the Canadian Club at Vancouver as a crowning objection to the Home Rule bill the fact that it proposes to confer upon the Irish parliament the power to impose

THE FAIR.

The executive head of the Victoria Exhibition is a busy man this week. He is so deeply immersed in the cares of office that he scarcely has time to glance at the weather forecasts, although the success of his year's work depends largely upon the atmospheric conditions. The people of Victoria and neighborhood are so different from their neighbors on the mainland. Let the weather prove never so unpropitious, the residents of New Westminster and of all the country round about attend their fair. It is a matter of principle with them. Mr. Sangster and all concerned in the management of Victoria's exhibition would be relieved of a great part of a considerable burden of anxiety if a similar spirit of local patriotism and pride prevailed here. But, apart from these things, the exhibition is worth going to. The exhibits in almost all departments are of a superior class and constitute a liberal education on the resources of the province. To-morrow has been proclaimed a public holiday by His Worship the Mayor, and no Victorian will have an excuse for not going and seeing for himself evidence of the progress in the agricultural and industrial arts for the year now approaching the stage of the "scar and yellow leaf." There are good prospects that the show of 1912 will be a success from every point of view. Let all loyal Victorians do their part in bringing about such a desirable result.

THE REAL TARIFF ISSUE.

Politicians frequently point the finger of scorn at the political economists who occupy professional chairs in universities and declare them to be idealists rather than practical men in their discussion of economic subjects. In an article in "The Burden of Protection," a London journal, under the signature of Prof. Andrew McPhail, F. R. S., of McGill University, is an argument which we think will go a long way to show the stigma is unworthy. Prof. McPhail deals with the political history of tariffs, particularly protective tariffs, in Canada in a manner that must commend itself to all thoughtful people of whatever political party they may be. The writer is severe in his arraignment of the Laurier government for what he calls "the great betrayal of 1894," which he declares followed its unsuccess in reducing the protective tariffs excepting in so far as this was accomplished by the granting of a "British preference." The whole article is incisive and, like most incisive articles, its sting is in the last few lines. The whole argument, however, is a masterly summary of the subject treated, and is especially so in its analysis of the defeat of reciprocity.

"Both parties," says the writer, "made reciprocity their policy. It had a place even in the tariff law itself, and elections were won upon the issue. It cannot then be affirmed that the idea of an enlarged trade with the United States was unfamiliar to the electorate; nor had any one suggested that such trade, even under a formal treaty, was undesirable or fraught with national peril. . . . Although this legislation happened to be concurrent, each community was free to adopt or reject the proposal, and after it had been accepted, to terminate it summarily for any reason or for no reason at all." There was one factor, however, Professor Macphail considers, with which the government did not fully reckon, the protective system. "That was," he says, "the head and front of the opposition to the proposal, namely, to postpone the ultimate downfall of protection in Canada. Everything else was subsidiary and merely a question of method."

There is nothing of the impractical idealist in Prof. McPhail when he says: "The naked truth is that the government was defeated by the charge that all who dared to support it were, in possession or in case, disloyal. And this monstrous stigma, that loyalty to the King is inseparable from loyalty to protection, has been affixed to the 616,948 persons who voted for the measure, and formed 48 per cent. of the electorate. But the simple rule succeeded, so that the farmers who, for the past forty years, have been paying 'protection prices' by being forbidden to buy in the United States, are now forbidden to sell, although they form 70 per cent. of the community."

This "disloyalty" phase will pass, however, and Dr. Macphail thinks that "when the people come to realize that their dearest emotions were played upon by fears which had no foundation, by hatreds and fantasies which were fabricated for a base purpose; when, in short, they come to suspect that they were made the victims of a delusion, they will look with fresh eyes upon any proposals for freer trade which may be submitted to them." He sums up with considerable vigor: "The whole incident precludes the truth that the fundamental objection to a protective system is not the dissemination of the delusion that internal competition will regulate prices, that trusts and combines lead to efficiency, that the money which circulates in the home market is more desirable than money which comes newly from the foreigner, that a tax which is paid to a manufacturer is as useful as if it were paid into the public exchequer; nor even the excellent argument that it paralyzes industry, leads to the corruption of public life, the silencing of the press, the degradation of parliament, the debasement of the law courts, and the debauching of society." And as are all these incidental results of the policy, the writer declares that none of them describes the evil of the situation. The curse of the protective system he declares is in the fact "that it hands over the legislative and executive functions of the government to a hard and selfish class which is actuated, not by any desire for the public good, but solely by the greed of pecuniary gain."

WORKING-MEN'S SAVINGS.

One of the most commendable features of the era of prosperity now being enjoyed by the people of the American continent is the very large proportion of wage earner's share in that prosperity that finds its way into the savings banks. What is called the "money power of the people" is shown from reliable statistics to be one of the chief safeguards of the continent. The wage earners of both United States and Canada are shown to be a frugal and provident people.

Mr. John J. Pulley of New York, in a paper on the savings banks of the country, sets forth the number of depositors as about 9,800,000, and the total value of deposits at $4,250,000,000. Four-fifths of this vast sum is in the savings banks of the East. New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have in the aggregate $3,350,000,000 on deposit in their savings banks. It is the habit of thrift in New England and in the three Middle States which accounts in part for the immense accumulations carried by their banks.

Considering that the Middle West and that group of States which is now called Western have in the aggregate, according to Mr. Pulley, $750,000,000 in savings bank deposits, it would seem that their people have carried with them the same sense of thrift that governed their New England fathers and grandfathers and will, as the progress of their industries renders them more independent, in time rival the savings bank record of the East. As the money deposit in savings banks does not lie idle, but is loaned out in various ways and is kept for the major part in ordinary banks, it follows that the accumulations of the thrifty constitute a tremendous factor in the entire business of the country.

In Canada the savings bank deposits are even more creditable. According to the latest returns the deposits reach the amount of $1,012,004,349 or considerably more than a billion dollars.

There are, therefore, about 32,000,000 people in United States and Canada who are directly or indirectly interested in the use being made of their deposits in the savings banks of the nation. This is so large a proportion of the population and it controls so large a proportion of the money that no raids political financiers may make can, however it is directed, avoid wounding the prosperity of an enormous proportion of what is really "the people."

The money not being kept idle is invested in the financing of industrial and other undertakings which constitute so large a measure of the prosperity of the country. While the money is literally "managed" for the people by the banks and industrial institutions the low rate of interest paid the people leaves a wide margin between its interest earnings and the profits realized from its investment. There is food in the situation for reflection. Even industrial prosperity is much more dependent upon the wage earners than many of the manufacturing and industrial magnates are prone to admit.

DEMANDING HIGHER TARIFFS.

The delegations from manufacturing interests which have waited on Premier Borden during the last few days asking for increased protection for the industries in which they are engaged show plainly that the interests which elected Mr. Borden to power expect him to make good. From now until the opening of parliament Mr. Borden may be prepared to be besieged by the representatives of manufacturing concerns who will insist on a greater measure of protection or bonuses of one kind or another. There are two ways of interpreting this action. The one is to assume that these interests know what they want and expect to obtain it in the way of tariff increase. The other explanation is that these representations are made with a view to stiffening Mr. Borden's spine against the determined onslaught of other interests in Canada who will demand tariff reduction and a greater measure of free trade. The machinations of the high protectionists will need the most careful scrutiny and whatever is done or left undone the public must not be left in doubt as to the real object of any tariff changes that are contemplated.

Recently the board of trade in Montreal reaffirmed its declaration in favor of preferential trade within the empire. The Montreal Witness regards this as meaning, "when put in straight forward language," that the board of trade desires Great Britain to impose a duty on the goods of all nations outside the British empire. In other words the resolution of the Montreal board of trade is "an invitation to England to become a protectionist country." There is little doubt that this motion will, in some form, be passed by many other boards of trade throughout Canada, and it is just as well for the public to distinguish between the action of a board of trade when passing resolutions for political purposes and when passing other resolutions which may be more local or commercial in their nature and objects.

We quite agree with the Witness when it says: "The one great thing that Canada has in its power to do to increase imperial trade is to increase the imperial preference, say to fifty per cent. When such men as voted for the resolution get down to business and advocate that Canada shall do what lies in her power to increase the sum total of preferential trade within the Empire they will not have to wait long for the accomplishment of their request."

The Borden organs throughout Canada declare that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party want another fight on the issue of wider markets and reduced duties on food stuffs and agricultural products the fight will be welcomed by the Conservative party. At the same time the burden of their editorial advice to Sir Wilfrid is that it is "bad politics" to attempt to revive an issue which was settled last year. Sir Wilfrid's position is the Torres Vedras. He says the Tory politicians induced Canadians to reject reciprocity; let them now find some other relief. Reduced tariffs and wider markets Canadians are determined to have. Nobody is saying anything about reciprocity. Mr. Borden's genius must find the acceptable substitute.

Regimental orders requiring the attendance of the men of the Fifth Regiment, C. G. A., not only to act as body guard to H. R. H. but to line the streets during the royal procession on Friday afternoon, have been issued. Obedience to the order will require that the men be granted leave of absence from their respective places of employment in ample time to prepare to take their proper part in the honors of the occasion. It has been suggested that the employers of the men of the Fifth Regiment give them the half-day on Friday, and perhaps this is but a reasonable suggestion. Let the men be encouraged to feel and look their best so that full military honor may be done the event.

WAR.

Toronto Star.
In how light a spirit men talk of war between two powerful nations. With what a strange indifference the bulk of the people hear such talk without making any effort to silence the mad words of those who would provoke conflict and swallow up in catastrophe hundreds of thousands of people.

Here is something for you to sit down and consider to-night. Owing to the Civil War in the United States, there are 35,218 Federal graves under the supervision of the Washington government, and of these 18,718 are the graves of unidentified soldiers who fell in the cause of the North. They marched, they fought and fell, were tumbled into trenches, and the great game went on.

War is a catastrophe in which half a dozen men should not have power to involve the people of a nation. The few who make of international politics a high game, and the few who make of soldiering a profession, hear but a trifling share of the consequences of war. From every home in the land young men march away and never return. The 18,718 unidentified dead of the army of the North were drafted from factory and farm, from shop and field. The men who do a nation's work in peace, must pay the nation's sacrifice in war.

Why should they stand by in an attitude of indifference while a few persons in blue place, by reckless words, invite disaster?

CHARITABLE CLERGYMAN.

Rev. T. S. Cunningham, vicar of Chilton, England.

The world and the men in the world were full of super animals, and he made bold to tell them that, with a trifling share of the consequences of war. From every home in the land young men march away and never return. The 18,718 unidentified dead of the army of the North were drafted from factory and farm, from shop and field. The men who do a nation's work in peace, must pay the nation's sacrifice in war.

KNEW HER CARDS.

Canadian Courier.
President Frost, of the Hamilton Board of Trade, who, by the way, is a good Methodist, delights to tell a story of a certain Methodist family, friends of his, who occasionally played a game of cards.

There was a seven-year-old daughter in the house who had obtained a rather meagre knowledge of the cards, just about enough to remember a few of the names.

One day she came home and asked why people said "God Save the King" at public meetings. Her mother tried to explain.

"But why don't they sing 'God Save the Queen' too?"

"They do when the King dies and the Queen rules," said the mother.

"Then what will they do when the Jack dies?" was the next question.

HERSCHELL ISLAND NOT EXACTLY LOCATED

Boundary Survey Did Not Establish Its Precise Situation

Although there is little doubt that Herschell Island in the Arctic will be shown to be Canadian territory, the definite location was not established by the boundary survey parties of Canada and the United States who have been working in the far north this season. Two members of the survey party Messrs. Reid and Arden were dispatched to the island, a distance of thirty-five miles from where the main detachment were working, but upon their arrival there they found it difficult to take observations, one of the obstacles being the peculiar mirages which were so distinct as to be confusing. While crossing to the island from the mainland Messrs. Reid and Arden had a very exciting misadventure. They were traversing an ice-floe when it crumbled over and threw them into the frigid waters from which luckily they escaped with no serious consequences.

Two members of the Canadian party Messrs. Lambert and Hamon of Ottawa are now in the city. From them it is learned that the 141st meridian from Mt. St. Elias to the Arctic has been marked which represents the northern limit of the activities prescribed by the Alaska Boundary Treaty.

BACK FROM EUROPE.

Hon. James Dunsinuir Returns to Hatley Park.

The Hon. James Dunsinuir and family returned to-day to Hatley Park, after a ten month absence in Europe, Africa and other parts of the world. The first place on the continent visited by the travellers was Switzerland, where all the characteristic sports were indulged in, the party then proceeding to Egypt and sailing up the Nile as far as Assuan, Mr. Dunsinuir expressing himself as being delighted with the view of the pyramids and other historical objects reminiscent of the early dynasties of the Pharaohs. The party, which consisted of ten persons, was in Egypt for six weeks, and on their return from that country went back to England, where they stayed at Esher, near Marlowe. Sailing from London to New York the travellers went on at once to Montreal, and from there returned to their home at Hatley Park, after a most delightful trip which was thoroughly enjoyed by all, but from which they were glad to return once more to Victoria.

For Comfort and Service Our Showing of Women's Coats Will Meet All Demands

WELL fitting coat that imparts that snug and comfortable feeling so agreeable to experience when the weather is cold and miserable is a delight to all women who find it imperative to venture out of doors when their preference would be to remain in their cosy rooms.

This is specially the case if the garments are stylish and are pleasing to the eye. Garments that are made for hard service are more pleasing and give greater satisfaction if designed and made a little better than is really necessary, and this is a fact the artists evidently had in mind when they created this season's styles.

Belted backs, deep turn back cuffs, button trimmed, neat patch pockets and convertible collars that can be worn with the wide lapel effect or button close up to the neck as the occasion demands, are strong features of these charming and useful models.

The materials include all manner of colors and patterns in tweeds, blanket cloths, chevrons, chinchilla, zibeline and satin velours.

PRICES START AS LOW AS $12.50, BUT THERE ARE BETTER ONES IF YOU DESIRE THEM.

VICTORIAN SHOT.

Cecil Sargent Victim of Mishap on Cortez Island While Hunting.

A report from Powell River states that Cecil Sargent, a young man of 20 years of age, and a resident of Victoria, was accidentally shot on Sunday at Cortez Island while out hunting.

Sargent had been working with a survey party in charge of Mr. Coates. On Sunday several members of the party took a rowboat and crossed to the mainland. While stepping ashore from the boat Sargent was pulling the gun out of the boat with the muzzle toward him when the gun discharged, the shot striking him on the left arm near the shoulder. He was brought down to Powell River in a launch and placed in the hospital where he is doing well. An operation may be necessary.

CHAMPION BILLIARDIST.

Melbourne Inman Will Arrive Here To-day—Plays To-night.

Melbourne Inman, who played in exhibition games in Vancouver Monday and Tuesday, left to-day for Victoria where he is scheduled to appear in the Camosun club to-night. Inman showed wonderful form in his games in Vancouver. He broke the Canadian record of 375, established by Roberts for one break by compiling 419 on Monday and almost beat this mark last night, when he scored 395. The local players who opposed the champion had no chance at all and only went to the table about twenty times during the entire game of 1,000 points.

Play in the Camosun Club will start at 8.15 o'clock to-night. Cowan, the well known Victoria cueist, will oppose Inman.

QUADRA STREET SITE.

Several Tenders in for New School Property in Northern End of City.

A meeting of the school board may be held this evening to open the tenders for a site for the new North Quadra Street school, of which several have been received.

The advertisement limited the area to that embraced in Quadra, Finlayson, Cook and Topaz streets, and it is believed a site of two acres can be obtained which will adequately provide for the rapidly developing district there. The sum of $5,500 is set aside for site and buildings, the latter of which will be of six rooms like the Burnside and Oaklands schools now under construction, and will cost $45,000 to $50,000.

As the site is expected to cost some $8,000 to $10,000 a further sum will accordingly be sought before the board proceeds with construction next year, but it is felt desirable to obtain the land at once, on account of the advance in prices everywhere.

Visitor Expected.—James C. Forman, the well known assessment commissioner of the city of Toronto for the last seven years, is expected to arrive in the city on Sunday or Monday.

WILL TAKE SATURDAY.

Lumbermen's Decision With Regard to Holiday Announced To-day.

In order that they may have time in which to see the fair and at the same time get a glimpse of the Duke, the lumbermen of the city have decided to take their holiday on Saturday next as the most convenient day.

It has been decided, therefore, by the men that no work will be done in the mills on Saturday and they will be closed down for that day.

GOVERNMENT'S REPLY.

Executive Say the Coal Mines Act Does Not Apply in Cumberland Strike.

The government have replied to the protest of the deputation of the United Mine Workers' of America, which waited on them on Friday, that there is not sufficient cause for an inquiry under the Coal Mines Regulation act, and accordingly they cannot grant the request. Oscar Mottishaw, one of the men against whom discrimination was alleged, has been in their employment since he left the Extension mine, and his dismissal at Cumberland did not arise, it is stated, from causes connected with criticism of the Canadian Collieries, Ltd.

APARTMENT HOUSE.

James Bay District to Have New Premises at Corner of Menzies and Niagara Streets.

Another apartment house is to be erected in James Bay, across the street from a flourishing block of the same character at the corner of Menzies and Niagara streets, for William S. Maher, Pinner & Weston are the contractors, and S. McClure the architect for the building. It is proposed to contain 15 rooms, and stores will be located underneath. The cost will be about $15,000, and a building permit was taken out to-day.

J. F. McLaughlin has taken out a permit for an eight-roomed house on Oliver street, costing $4,000.

HELPING DEVELOPMENT.

Responses to League's Advertisement of a Practical Nature—Cuban Interested.

An interesting batch of correspondence was received at the office of the Vancouver Island Development League this morning. One communication was from Guines in Cuba from a party anxious to open up a hardware store on the island, preferably in some growing townsite. Another interesting letter was received from a Los Angeles business man who is anxious to set up a varnishing factory in this city.

From Milwaukee came a communication asking as to the business opportunities in Victoria, and what chances there would be for the opening up of a new insurance company's business in the city.

Other applications for information and the advertised pamphlets were received from Hyde park, London; Toronto; Blackhill, Durham, and Bolton, Lancashire.

HINT FOR EMPLOYERS.

Asked to Allow Their Soldier Employees Half Holiday on Friday

The attention of employers is called to the following letter received by the Times from Major Ridgway Wilson, commanding the Fifth Regiment:

To the Editor.—On Friday afternoon the Fifth Regiment is ordered to furnish a guard of honor for H. R. H. the Governor-General and to line the streets. This will necessitate every man who parades being absent from his employment for half a day. Vancouver last week made a magnificent showing, where there were probably 600 or 700 members of the militia away from their regular employment for the best part of two days. We are only asking for half of one day in order that Victoria may make a good showing with 250 men. Now, what are employers going to do about it? The result rests with them. Employees naturally hesitate to ask for what is too often a grudging consent. Let it be publicly known that all members of the militia are free at noon on Friday to go home and clean up their equipment and parade at the Drill Hall at 2.30, or must Victoria take a back seat? I think not, when the employers understand the situation.

As this is the first meeting of the year, the public are cordially invited to be present.

Kathleen Parlow

Newest Exclusive "Columbia" Artist

There's a big feature for Canadians in the October announcement of new Columbia Records. Kathleen Parlow, the remarkably brilliant Calgary girl, now admitted by the world's foremost critics to be the greatest woman violinist the world has ever had, and with very few rivals even amongst men, our own Kathleen Parlow, has signed a contract with the Columbia people to play for Columbia Records only. The first of her records are contained in the October list. They are "Humoresque" (Dvorak), "Melodie" (Tschalkowsky), "Moment Musical" (Schubert), and "Minuet in G, No. 2" (Beethoven).

Besides this great feature, the October list is complete with new operatic selections, several excellent popular successes and a number of high-grade standard songs and new musical numbers, introducing both new and old favorites among the artists.

MINERALOGIST RETURNS.

W. Fleet Robertson to Report on the Groundhog District.

At the opening of the Mining Institute semi-annual meeting held here last week, the premier made the announcement that W. Fleet Robertson, the provincial mineralogist, was making a prolonged visit to the Groundhog district, where he went to examine the deposits of anthracite coal. In his remarks the premier stated that he had reason to believe that the results of the investigations would exceed even the expectations they had as to the extent of the field.

The provincial mineralogist is now back in town and will present his report to the minister this afternoon. The announcement of the result of his researches will be awaited with more than usual interest; for it is expected that the district in question will be a considerable asset to the mining resources of the province.

SEATTLE DOUBLES ON TACOMA.
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 24.—Seattle won from Tacoma, 6 to 3, in a hard fought contest to-day. The locals piled up a lead of four runs and apparently had an easy victory until the eighth, when Thompson got weak, four hits netting two runs. With one out and two men on bases, Melkie replaced Thompson and assisted by Strait, whose sensational catch back of second base cut off two runs, saved the day.

In Seattle's half of the eighth Raymond hit for two bases down the third base line, driving in two runs. McMullen's home run drive in the ninth gave Tacoma the third run and ended the scoring. By winning to-day while

CANADIAN RUGBY TO BE INTRODUCED

VICTORIA CLUB HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

And Soon Local Sport Patrons Will Witness Exhibitions of the Fast Eastern Game

Very soon Victorians will be able to witness exhibitions of Canadian Rugby, as clubs are being formed in Victoria and Vancouver to play this game. Last night the local boys met in the Y. M. C. A. and organized the Victoria Canadian Rugby Club. There were some eighteen present and they seemed anxious to have the game introduced here, and are ready to get down to hard practice immediately.

Officers were elected pro tem last night to attend to the affairs of the club, until it is in a sound condition, when a general meeting will be held. Walter Small, the well-known hockey player and one who has played Canadian Rugby in the East, was appointed president; Jack Challes, another Easterner who knows the game, is vice-president, and F. A. Churchill, Jr., is secretary-treasurer.

The secretary of the club will enter into communication with the Vancouver club immediately, and see what arrangements can be made for the financing of the teams. It is expected that for the first year the two teams will turn the gate receipts into a pool and the travelling expenses of the players will be paid out of this.

Nothing has been announced as to when the first game will be played, but the boys have arranged for a couple of practices a week, and with several expert coaches they expect to develop a fast team and promise all those who turn out a good exhibition of the Canadian game, which is fast becoming popular all over the Dominion. In this city are a number of players who have been on the line-ups of some of the fastest Eastern teams, and no doubt Victoria will be able to pick a fine aggregation to try conclusions with Vancouver in a few months' time.

Canadian Rugby is a very popular game in the East, where the inter-provincial and intercollegiate matches attract thousands of spectators. This is especially true of the university matches, where the students and adherents with organized choruses and college yells always succeed in rounding enthusiasm and excitement to the highest degree. The Canadian game—which combines features of the American play and Rugby proper—is an excellent pastime from the standpoint of both players and spectators and its inauguration here should provide a marked stimulus to local football activities generally. Victoria bids fair to become one of the best football centres on the continent.

HYLAND MATCHED.

"Fighting Dick" Hyland, the hard hitting San Francisco lightweight, and Pal Brown, the sensational lightweight from Hibbing, Minn., have been matched to meet on October 5, at Tommy Burns' new arena, at the end of the Manchester car line, Calgary.

Transportation has been sent to both men and they will arrive in Calgary this week to train for the battle.

Pal Brown is one of the little fellows who have been burning up things in the East and is looked upon as a real comer. It was Pal Brown who gave Billy Allen such a drubbing, and started the former Canadian champion on the down grade which ended September 4, when he was knocked out by Joe Bayley.

Pal Brown has also met Joe Mandot, who beat Joe Rivers a couple of weeks ago. The mill was a no-decision affair and although Mandot had the better of the battle, according to the newspaper accounts, yet Brown was given great credit for his hard hitting and staying power.

"Fighting Dick" Hyland has been in the game for almost ten years now, but during all this time has never been knocked out. He is one of the cleanest living scrappers in the business.

The boys will weigh in at 133 pounds seven hours before the battle.

SPORT NOTES

Eddie McGoorty, who claims the middleweight championship of the world, is certainly making a good bid for the title, and it is thought that if he keeps on putting away his opponents as he has been of late he will be called "One-Round McGoorty." McGoorty knocked out Dave Smith, the Australian champion, in one round, and now just a night or two ago he knocked out Jack Harrison, the English champion, in one round.

England is sending over another white hope to regain the laurels Bombarrier Wells lost when here. This hope's name is Tom Cowler.

Harry Clark, third baseman of the Milwaukee club in the American Association, was appointed manager of the team to succeed Hugh Duffy by M. C. Ames, mayor, president and owner of the club. Duffy resigned as manager.

The Boston club were given a big reception when they returned home from their western tour. Business was stopped for a short time, and nearly all the city turned out to welcome the players on their return. The whole city is baseball crazy.

Pittsburgh are rapidly climbing on Chicago in the National League. In the last couple of weeks they have been coming strong. If the Cubs do not hurry they will be overtaken by the Pirates. A game and a half is all that separates them.

Bill Nolan is not anxious for Willie Ritchie to fight Ad Walgaast for the title. Nolan turned down a $3,000 offer to fight Walgaast on Thanksgiving Day at Taft, Cal. Nolan wants $10,000 out of $20,000 for Ritchie's share.

The Cornwall lacrosse team have arrived on the coast from the east and are all confident that they will carry the Minto cup back with them, but New Westminster cannot see where they have a chance. The games are scheduled to take place on October 1 and 5.

Manager McGill, of the Denver club, champions of the Western League, has arranged for a post series games with Minneapolis, winners of the American Association League, to be played in Denver. The teams will play till either wins four games.

Charles Doolin, manager of the Philadelphia National League Club, will be out of the game for the rest of the season as a result of fractured bone in his right hand, caused by a foul off Roger Gresham's bat at St. Louis last Friday.

"Ping" Bodie, the Chicago fence buster, according to a rumour, will be released to make room for some recruit who can use his head more than "Ping" does.

Daniels, who is playing centre field for Victoria, batted 321 in Twilight League, while Clementson batted 213 up there.

Naryson won five out of eight games he pitched in the Twilight League. He is fifth on the list.

England is thinking of sending over another white hope to America besides Cowler. His name is P. O. Curran, an

The Freddie Welsh-Matt Wells fight, which was to have taken place in England on October 21, has been postponed to November 11, as Welsh has matches in America which he has to fill.

Jiggs Donahue, once famous Chicago White Sox star, is in the Ohio State Insane Asylum.

In a game a short time ago between Philadelphia and Detroit with the bases jammed and two out, Maggert came to bat and singled, yet no one run was scored. Lapp was on third, Crabb on second and Murphy on first. Maggert hit a hard line down short and the ball struck Crabb as he was running to third and the side was out. Detroit won the game 8-4.

Johnny Kilbane is outgrowing the featherweight limit. In his bout with Johnny Dundee in New York, a short time ago, Kilbane weighed 125 1/2 lbs. Now Kilbane should not kick about his match with Jim Driscoll, the English champion over weight conditions.

Lamline, who pitched for the Chicago White Sox recently and was knocked out of the box, is the same Lamline who was with Portland. He remembers the licking he got in the local ball-yard by the Bees.

The Chicago-Cleveland series for the year ended in a draw, each team winning 11 games, although the Sox had a big lead over the Naps at one time.

ANOTHER NEW HOLT LINER TO BE BUILT

SHIP OF 18,000 TONS FOR PACIFIC SERVICE

Steamship Will Be 40 Feet Longer Than Talthybius and 20 Longer Than Ixion

Despite the fact that the Holt Steamship Company has withdrawn all but one of its smaller vessels from the Liverpool-Puget Sound service and replaced them with carriers of nearly double their size, the big shipping concern still finds it is unable to take care of the great amount of freight which is being offered for shipment on its steamships to the Orient and the United Kingdom.

The company has now decided to build another liner for the service on this coast. This steamship will be the largest of the fleet, being 555 feet in length and having a capacity for nearly 18,000 tons. She will be nearly 40 feet longer than the new steamship Talthybius, which was here on her maiden voyage from Liverpool about three months ago. The new boat will also be 20 feet longer than the new liner Ixion, which was only recently laid down. She is to have accommodation for a number of cabin passengers and a great deal of space is to be set aside for the stowage.

Only a few years ago the old steamships purchased from the China Mutual Steamship Company were able to look after the business, and some times they left the Sound with their holds far from filled. A year or so ago the Proteus was added to the fleet, replacing the Ningchow and later came the Talthybius, which relieved the Oana. Now the Ixion is being built to take the place of the Keemun. When the new boat is ready for service it is not believed the Blue Funnel line will drop one of the other ships from the fleet coming here. It is possible that a faster schedule may be arranged.

The Proteus, which is the fastest vessel of the fleet, having a record of 12 days and 5 hours from Yokohama, is not due to arrive here until some time next week. She is scheduled to dock on Saturday. It will be remembered that the Proteus, bound in for London, was signalled at Frigate Point and switched to Liverpool. After discharging a cargo of Australian-bound freight and carrying it to London for one of the Blue Funnel liners. This delayed her considerably, and she left Liverpool for this port two weeks late.

ALICE TAKES PARTY TO ALASKA BOUNDARY

Princess Left Rupert Early This Morning With Duke—Visiting Port Simpson

Capt. Locke, master of the steamer Princess Alice, on which the Duke of Cornwall and other members of the royal party are making their tour of the north, sent a wire to the officials of the Alice left Prince Rupert at 6 a. m. today for a run to the boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia and later to call at Port Simpson to see the Indian village there.

The Duke, who has travelled extensively throughout the world, is on his first trip to the Pacific coast and no doubt he wished to satisfy a desire to sail in Alaskan waters. The Alice steamed along the coast for some distance and early this afternoon she was docked at Port Simpson. It is not known whether the Alice will return to Prince Rupert on her way from Port Simpson south or not, but it is more than likely that she will steam right through.

According to the schedule outlined for the royal cruise on the Alice it was not intended to have the vessel take this side trip. She was to have laid in Rupert until this afternoon, but the party requested a trip to Alaska and Capt. Locke took the steamer to those waters.

On the way south the Alice will stop for several hours at Alert Bay to permit the Duke, Duchess and Princess to see the Indian village there. The steamer will dock here on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. She will reach Nanaimo about noon.

FRISCO'S MARINE NEWS.

Alta Gets 60s.—Last Year She Received 33s. 9d. for Same Voyage—To Load in British Columbia

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The contrast in the existing lumber rates and those of a year ago are emphasized by the charter of the well-known barquentine Alta, at Melbourne, which has been fixed by shippers in Sydney, for lumber from British Columbia to Australia. The Alta was chartered to load for Sydney at 60s. A year ago she made the same voyage for 33s. 9d., and even at that figure came out a little better than even.

The British steamer Ikalis left on Monday night for Caspar to load lumber for Australia under charter to J. J. Moore & Co. She will finish her cargo on the Columbia River. The Ikalis, of the same fleet, in from Sydney, is not under charter at present, her fixture to Moore & Co. having expired.

The Norwegian steamer Thor, which has been running on the coast with coal for the Western Fuel Company, has been chartered by Waterhouse & Co. for lumber and merchandise from Portland or Puget Sound to the Orient. She is at present here discharging coal.

The barquentine John Palmer, en route from Calais, has been chartered by Pope & Talbot for lumber from Puget Sound to a direct port in South Africa at 53s. 9d.

The British steamer Lord Curzon, under charter to Waterhouse & Co., departed for Tacoma last night to load flour for the Orient. The British steamer Strathearn, under charter to the Pacific Export Lumber Company, left for Puget Sound yesterday to load for the Orient. The Oceanic liner Ventura left for Sydney.

GALICIA AT SAN PEDRO.

The Harrison liner Crown of Galicia was reported arriving at San Pedro on Monday from the United Kingdom. She will not be along here until late next week.

NEWS OF THE SEVEN SEAS

JAPANESE LINERS ARE BOTH DELAYED

INABA AND MEXICO NOT DUE IN TILL SATURDAY

Heavy Weather Thought to Be Delaying Ships in Trans-Pacific Passages

Both the Japanese liners due to arrive in port this week from the Far East, the Inaba Maru, Capt. Tomimaga, of the Nippon fleet, and the Mexico Maru, Capt. Kyubashi, of the Osaka line, have been delayed several days in their trans-Pacific passages. It is not expected that either of the steamships will dock here before Saturday morning. The operator at Estevan was in communication with the vessels last night and this morning shipping men, after carefully figuring, came to the conclusion that neither the Inaba nor Mexico would reach William Head on Friday in time to pass quarantine.

The Mexico Maru is ahead of the Inaba and will more likely drop her anchor at William Head about 10 o'clock Friday night. The Nippon liner will not be off the station until early Friday morning. Both vessels were picked up by wireless at 8 o'clock last night and the position of the Mexico was latitude 50.23 north and longitude 144.04 west, about 900 miles from Victoria. The Inaba's position was latitude 49.25 north and longitude 147.36 west, about 1075 miles from the port.

Heavy weather has been prevailing on the Pacific for some time and it is more than likely that both steamships, which sailed within a short time of one another, were caught in a typhoon off the Japanese coast. The agents here were advised of the sailing of the vessels on schedule time and the Mexico was expected on Thursday morning and the Mexico late the same day.

With both these steamships at the outer docks on Saturday the longshoremen will be kept busy, as the Inaba has 1,500 tons to discharge here and the Mexico will put off 600 tons. The cargo of the Inaba for Victoria is one of the largest ever to be brought across the Pacific by a Japanese boat. The Yokohama Maru, the last of the fleet to dock here, had 1,200 tons aboard for Victoria.

The Inaba has 162 steerage passengers for Victoria and the Mexico has 88.

RUPERT AND ALBERT ARRIVE FROM NORTH

Two Prince Steamers Arrive This Morning—Good Weather Reported by Both

From Prince Rupert the two Grand Trunk Pacific steamers Prince Rupert, Capt. Barney Johnson, and Prince Albert, Capt. Donald, arrived in port early this morning. The latter docked at Esquimalt and will be there for a few days to blow out her boilers and to get the rigging repaired. The masters of both vessels report having had beautiful weather throughout, except for a light wind in Queen Charlotte Sound.

The Prince Rupert brought south a light list of passengers. Among them in the saloon were the following: W. Fleet Robertson, provincial mineralogist, who has been in the Groundhog district on an inspection trip; R. Garrett, a mining man, who has been spending some time at the mining centers around Hazelton; F. L. Wilson, I. I. Ash and L. E. Porter, who made the round trip on the steamer; Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Shaughnessy, of Prince Rupert, who have come south on a holiday trip, and J. D. Badgley.

Prince Rupert sails north to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. The Prince Albert after completing her overhaul at Esquimalt, will proceed to Sound ports to load a cargo of hay and iron for Prince Rupert. On her way south the Albert called at 11 canneries and the officers say that the packers have not yet finishing labelling and packing the cans. There is an enormous amount of salmon yet to come south and the coasting vessels will have full cargoes for a while yet.

LAST CARGOES GOING NORTH.

Water on Yukon Low—Steamers Leaving Seattle With Much Freight for the Interior.

Seattle, Sept. 25.—Officials of the steamship lines operating to Southeast Alaska have been notified by the Northern Navigation Company that the last shipments routed by river boat to Dawson, Stewart, Selkirk and other upper Yukon ports, must be delivered at Skagway not later than October 1.

The steamers Humboldt, of the Humboldt Steamship Company, sailing at 9 o'clock to-night, and the Dolphin and Cordova, of the Alaska S. S. Co., sailing to-morrow night, will be the last vessels from this port to receive shipments for the upper Yukon this year.

The river boats are having considerable difficulty on account of low water in the Yukon between White Horse and Dawson, and navigation will be closed early in October.

MANY PEOPLE BOARD PUEBLA FOR SOUTH

Steamship Took 55 Passengers From Victoria for San Francisco

Another full list of passengers went south to San Francisco this morning aboard the Pacific Coast steamship City of Puebla, Capt. Paulsen. The Puebla was sold out and again quite a number of persons had to be refused tickets on the vessel. Fifty-five passengers embarked at this port, which is the largest number so far this year. There were about 200 passengers all told aboard the ship.

Among the passengers booked at this port were the following: Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bradshaw and child, W. Mitchell, J. Rieschel, R. Polk, John Nelson, Fred Jackson, C. Ferris, Mrs. M. Conrad, Robt. Wright, Jas. Long, Chas. Gibson, Miss Edna Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cates. The Puebla also took south a large cargo of freight, including a small shipment from this port.

Advices have been received here of the departure of the Umatilla, Capt. Reddy, of the same fleet, from San Francisco yesterday. The steamship is bringing north 314 tons of cargo for Victoria. She will dock some time to-morrow night.

STOMACH BAD? BELCHING GAS AND SOUR FOOD? WANT TO FEEL FINE?

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

TO-MORROW CITIZENS' DAY AT THE EXHIBITION

And Will a be Civic Holiday Throughout the City —Large Attendance is Hoped For
—Prize Winners

The Victoria public are reminded that to-morrow (Thursday) will be a civic holiday. It will be Citizens' Day at the fair and it is hoped that the attendance will be the largest in the history of the institution.

In opening the exhibition yesterday afternoon his honor the lieutenant-governor expressed the hope that it would be generously patronized by the people of Victoria because the exhibition meant a great deal for the city. His remarks were concurred in by the premier who pointed out that while good weather and numerous entries were, important essentials, the success of an exhibition required also the backing of the public. Without this it was of no use to hold an exhibition. The premier also paid a tribute to the excellence and quantity of the exhibits and emphasized the educational character of events of this kind, and also complimented Dr. Tolmie, the president of the association, and Geo. Sangster, the secretary, on their work of preparation.

Mayor Beckwith also bespoke the claims of the exhibition upon the patronage of the people of Victoria and announced that as usual to-morrow would be a public holiday. Dr. Tolmie thanked the speakers for their presence and their complimentary references to himself and the association, acknowledging also the assistance received from the city and provincial government.

Judging in Progress

Judging continued throughout the day yesterday at the Fair grounds, and in the poultry section, certain departments of the Women's Building and other places were not completed at a late hour. The display in the first named is very fine, and the numbers of visitors testify to the interest which is taken in domestic birds. In addition to the regular display of Leghorns, Buff Orpingtons, Minorcas, Rhode Island Reds and other varieties of layers, there is a very good showing of pigeons.

Women's Exhibits

In the Woman's Building a very handsome display of fancy-work, plain sewing, knitting, and children's sewing is to be seen. This occupies nearly half of the large hall, and represents hundreds of exhibitors ranging in age from the child of six to the septuagenarian—for in the children's section there is the opportunity for the one and in the class for "ladies over and under" the latter got recognition as seventy" the latter got recognition as a special class. In both departments it had seemed a pity, where the work was exceptionally good, that the exhibitor could not enter other classes with her work, where the numbers with whom she would be competing would make the prize more gratifying. However, as classes in themselves they contain some perfectly beautiful work, and in the section devoted to work by girls from twelve to sixteen years of age some of the neatest and most finished work in the room was to be seen. Mrs. M. M. Gleason in the class for ladies over seventy was awarded first for the best ten hand-somely-embroidered, the award for the best collection of ten pieces in the best class going to Mrs. George J. Jones. In a special booth, which looked very luxurious with its great soft cushions and hangings, the cushion exhibit was shown, one very handsome pillow in ribbon-work being highly admired. In this work there were several instances of the popularity of "Navy Cut" flags, which were worked in in various designs, while some handsome examples of the new briar-rose design were on exhibit. In the section devoted to the ever-popular English eyelet work Mrs. Merrifield's exhibit took first, and one of the most conspicuous of the hall was that of Mrs. P. McCaffrey, silk embroidered centre-piece. A very dainty exhibit of handpainted finger-bowl doilies was shown by Mrs. G. Edwards, these being for sale, and another feature, particularly prominent through being the only exhibit of its kind, was Mrs. Thompson's fine piece of Gobelin tapestry—a branch of needlework which is little done nowadays, and which demands not only a delicate sense of perspective and form, but a very fine use of the needle and a sensitive appreciation of color. One of the most exquisite pieces of embroidery in the whole exhibit was the piano scarf of silk, embroidered in art shades of green and brown, shown by Mrs. J. Bentley, while nearby was one of the few pieces of work exhibited by a man in this part of the annual fair, a lamp-shade of ornamental brass-work by Mr. Marks.

District Women's Exhibits

The two district exhibits shown by the Royal Oak Women's Institute and the Lake District Women's Institute were very effectively arranged, the former occupying a very good position just at the left hand of the entrance. This was in charge of Mrs. Hutchinson, and gave a hint of the useful and practical work which is being done by the members. The decorations were unusually attractive, the stall from the outside looking like a bower of hops, while within rows and rows of bottles and plain and fancy sewing gave evidence of the industry of the institute. The top shelf, containing soups, prepared vegetables, meats, and fruits, was inspired by the idea that at some time the housewife might be called on to give an emergency luncheon, and in order to guide her as to the best use of her stores emergency-luncheon menu cards, very daintily designed and hand-painted, indicated just what sequence of courses might be arranged from her bottled ingredients. Another emergency exhibit was suggestive of more serious application, this being for use in cases of illness and consisting of thermos bottle, paper cups and towel (in the event of contagious disease) and the numerous little things which are needed in a sick room. A few paintings tastefully displayed were evidence of the artistic ability of some of the members. Miss Bainbridge Smith's four paintings of the seasons, forming one of the much-admired series, while other pictures by Mrs. H. T. Oldfield, Mrs. MacMillan, and Mrs. J. Bentley added to this feature of the exhibit. A small section devoted to the dairy, poultry, baking and fruit-preserving completed what is one of the most attractive collective exhibits in the building. The Lake District Women's Institute was also very artistically decorated with evergreens, being divided into three sections arranged in tier fashion, and containing a very fine assortment of jams, preserved fruits, cooked hams, cakes and plain and fancy sewing. In the middle a table set for dessert, with fruit and finger-bowls, added an attractive departure to this very fine exhibit.

Following the recent introduction of the teaching of domestic science into the schools here it was scarcely a surprise to see a large number of exhibits in all manner of edibles made by the school children of Victoria, although one felt slightly surprised at the character of the cooking. Bread, cakes, pastries, preserves and puddings that might have done credit to the adult exhibit were shown in this collection, prepared by the budding housekeepers of Victoria.

Prominent in the domestic section that devoted to bread, and crisp brown loaves of all shapes and sizes have found their way into the building in spite of the absence of bakers' wagons. Mrs. McColl has the building in spite of the absence of bakers' wagons. Mrs. McColl has sent some of the biggest loaves in the exhibition and has taken first prize for the best loaf made with Five Roses flour, also for the best loaf made with Royal Standard flour, while the old-fashioned but still as popular as ever Boston brown bread was shown by a number of capable cooks. Mrs. A. J. McKenzie's taking the leading prize. Mrs. Staps also among the successful exhibitors in this very important branch of the culinary art, her pan loaves being the best in their class.

The Main Hall, which was officially opened during the afternoon by the lieutenant-governor, a more finished look characterizes all the exhibits, and this morning everything was at its best, the flowers looking fresh and, in the cases of the cut flowers, wreaths, crosses, etc., much better than they will do during the remainder of the week. In the provincial exhibit of flowers it was rather disappointing to find so few potted plants and such a predominance of sweet peas, the use of various things rather a drawback to the interest in this exhibit. In the amateur section of the floral display Mr. C. Rippington showed the best wreath, J. Wollaston the best bridal shower bouquet, Mrs. Jennings the best lady's spray, and C. W. Newbury a very fine collection of cactus dahlias.

In the professional class the principal competitors were Brown Bros., of whom took a great number of prizes for cut flowers and floral designs. There seems, in this connection, to be a revival of the use of orchids, and considering their long-lasting characteristics as a cut-flower it seems a very much-desired innovation. One of the bridal shower bouquets was composed of orchids, maidenhair fern, bridal roses and lilies-of-the-valley, while one of the floral pillows also introduced some of these beautiful blooms in conjunction with carnations and white roses. Brown Bros. had some exceptionally fine chrysanthemums for the season, and judging by these early examples one may expect to see some beautiful blooms before the zenith of their season. Flewings exhibited a very fine collection of six dahlias reminiscent of local celebrities whose names grace the fair blooms, while a collection of twenty-four well-nigh perfect cactus dahlias formed one of the best of the exhibits made by Flewings. Wilkerson & Brown took first prize for the best basket of flowers, and in a section devoted to perennials Flewings once more took first prize for the best collection. Immediately in front of the platform where the evening concerts took place the Lansdowne Floral Company have another effective display of potted flowers, while on a long table in front of this are ranged quantities of ferns which have been entered for competition.

Fruit Surprise. In looking over the fruit display shown by the government in the Vancouver Island exhibit it was with some surprise that one found a large basket of strawberries grown at Gordon Head, and suggestive of the early summer months, while among the individual exhibits were several examples of what can be grown in the vicinity in the way of grapes. A Longfield of Cook street exhibited a very fine plate of Concord grapes, also a plate of White's Sweetwater grapes. The principal exhibits of quinces came from Chandler Bros. orchards at Royal Oak, which did not seem to find much competition. It seems rather strange that in a city where activity prevails in the buying and selling of land and houses there should be only one real-estate firm at the fair.

The Y. W. C. A. building fund is being slightly augmented by the kindly efforts of C. B. Jamieson, who is devoting the proceeds of the cups of tea sold to thirsty passers-by at his tea and coffee stand, just across from which one is somewhat mystified by the Woodworkers' exhibit of doors which lead nowhere.

Evening Entertainment

In the evening the main hall is the scene of a regular nightly concert, the Fifth Regiment band being stationed in the balcony and giving numbers at intervals, while Gideon Hicks has arranged for a short vocal and instrumental programme to be given every evening during the week. Last evening the visitors were delighted with the songs given by Miss Eva Harle, whose faultless soprano carried well in the big hall in Batters' "April Morning," "Come Sweet Morning," and Waltham's "May Day." This delightful vocalist will be heard again on Friday evening, accompanied by Mr. H. G. E. Pocock, A. R. C. M., who acted last evening as accompanist at the Weber grand piano being shown by the Gideon Hicks Piano Co. Selections were also given during the evening on this instrument, which is the only one of its kind ever shown in the province. In connection with the display of beautiful pianos being shown by this firm it is interesting to note that they have supplied the Heintzman colonial grand piano which has been placed in the Royal suite of rooms at Government House for the express use of their Royal Highnesses and the Princess Patricia during their visit here. This evening Mrs. Jessie Longfield, contralto, will give the vocal numbers, Dr. A. C. de L'Harwood, a Montreal tenor, having consented to sing to-morrow evening and on Saturday.

Miss Helen Douglas has arrived in the city from Montreal and is staying at the Empress hotel.
G. Hall Scott has arrived in the city from London, England, and is registered at the Empress.
Mrs. A. G. King, 610 Moss street, will receive on Tuesday, October 1, and on the first Tuesday in each month during the winter.

H. L. Howe has arrived in the city from San Francisco, and is among the guests at the Dominion hotel.
Mr. and Mrs. John B. Gray are in the city from New Westminster, and are staying at the Empress hotel.
E. O. S. Schofield, provincial librarian and archivist, has returned from Kamloops, where he went to take an official part in the celebration of the centenary of the city. Taking of the reception which the thriving city gave to their Royal Highnesses, Mr. Schofield said that it was most enthusiastic, and that the citizens had entered wholeheartedly into all the arrangements both for that and for the celebration of their own historical event. The pageant, in which was represented the whole history of the city, including the history of the Cariboo, was well conceived and was carried out without a hitch. While in Kamloops Mr. Schofield gave an illustrated lecture on the early times, the first time he has done so outside the capital or Vancouver. In the course of his talk he threw on the screen a most interesting series of views from old-time photographs, which pictured the trip from San Francisco to Barkerville.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"Be able to be alone."
—Sir Thomas Browne.

Are you good company for yourself?

A young woman in the course of a vacation trip was left alone for a few days in a strange city where she did not know a single person. When the friends for whom she was waiting joined her, they were loud in their expressions of sympathy for the terrible boredom she must have suffered.

"The young woman opened her eyes wide in amazement. 'Why, I had a lovely time,' she said. 'What did you do?'"

"Well, I went shopping and then went out to the park and looked at the animals. Then I walked up and down the avenue and watched the people, and thought about them and what they were doing. Altogether, the time just flew by."

"And you weren't lonely?"

"Not a bit," said the young woman frankly. "I suppose I could have made friends with some of the women at the house, but, do you know, I didn't really care to. I guess," she concluded with a smile, "that I'm pretty good company for myself."

Wanted: a lucky woman, or more likely, a wise one?

"Be able to be alone," says Sir Thomas Browne, thereby recognizing that the ability to be content with only one's self for company is something which can and ought to be cultivated. There are a great many people to whom there is no prospect more terrifying than that of a few hours with only their own selves for company. To escape that terrible catastrophe, they will make friends with the most fearful bore or read the most stupid story.

I wonder if they realize, when they do that, what a commentary they are making on their own boreness?

If such people are marooned a few hours, not only without human companionship, but even without a book or magazine with which to screen their own stupidity from themselves, they are fairly frantic. "The surest way of not having any thoughts of your own," someone has said, "is taking up a book every time you have nothing to do." In these days of cheap and copious reading matter, that is exactly what three-fourths of us do.

Is it any wonder, then, that most of us do seem to be rather short on thoughts of our own and not very successful as companions for ourselves?

Could you enjoy just watching a crowd of people pass by?

Could you be happy alone in a strange city?

Could you enjoy a long walk in the country by yourself?

In short, are you "able to be alone?"

Pimples So Bad He Was Ashamed

Tried Everything but Did It No Good.
One Box of Cuticura Ointment Took Pimples Away.

"About seven years ago pimples broke out all over my face and neck. When they first came out they would turn white, and matter would come out. Sometimes they would itch so I could hardly sleep. I would wash my face with soap and water, but it did no good. I went to several doctors and got medicine, which did me no good, and but none of them would cure my face and neck. A friend advised me to try Cuticura Ointment. I got one box, and it took the pimples away before I had it all used up. I can say it is a wonderful remedy. Any sufferer who has pimples should use Cuticura Ointment if they want a sure cure. I never had any more pimples after I used Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Walter Mathers, Parkhill, Ont., Dec. 24, 1910.

Sores All Over Baby's Body

"When my baby boy was six months old, his body was completely covered with large sores that seemed to itch and burn, and caused terrible suffering. The eruption began in pimples which would open and run, making large sores. His hair came out and finger nails fell off, and the sores were over the entire body, causing little or no sleep for baby or myself. Great relief would come off when I removed his shirt. We tried a great many remedies but nothing would help him, till a friend induced me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment but a short time before I could see that he was improving, and in six weeks' time he was entirely cured. He had suffered about six weeks before he tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, although we had tried several other things and doctors too. I think the Cuticura Remedies will do all that is claimed for them, and a great deal more." (Signed) Mrs. Noble Tubman, Doonson, Mont., Jan. 20, 1911.

NO BY-LAW FOR COMMISSIONERSHIP

CLEARING AIR FOR MR. RUST'S APPOINTMENT

Committee on Municipal Motor Bus Service Holds Meeting

In view of the closing up of the city hall to-morrow for the civic holiday the officials were busy to-day, and several council committees were at work polishing off details.

There will be no meeting of the streets committee on Friday afternoon, on account of the welcome to the royal party taking place at an hour which would make it inconvenient to hold the meeting, and accordingly, in order to get the business through before the next council meeting, there will be a session of the streets committee at eleven o'clock on Monday.

The special committee appointed to look into the proposed transfer of the water commissioner's office from the present incumbent to the city engineer met this morning, and talked the matter over. They discovered that no by-law will be necessary, and that it will merely require a resolution to effect the change, after the details are considered. The Victoria City Water Act, and by-laws already in existence, adequately cover the situation so far as the duties are concerned. A report on the subject will be made on Monday.

Another important committee meeting held to-day was one having reference to the motor bus service proposed by Alderman Cuthbert at a meeting of the city council on August 12, in which he suggested that data as to cost of manufacture, and operating expenses, should be collected. A large quantity of this information is now assembled, and the meeting to-day was to look it over, and select data for a report from the voluminous information at the committee's disposal. They have been fortunate in their inquiries, particularly as to the information gathered as to cost and maintenance of motor omnibuses.

It is hoped to have the information in such shape that a by-law may be submitted at the next annual election to take the people's opinion on the advisability of the city entering into the field of transportation. The legal side

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSE TO-MORROW AT NOON

Opportunity for Children to See Both Fair and Arrival of Royal Party

To-morrow afternoon the city schools will be closed, the school children ceasing school at noon until the following Monday. The arrangement has been made by Superintendent Paul of the city schools department with the sanction of the department of education.

The double holiday has been arranged so that the children will have the opportunity to-morrow, citizens day, of visiting the fair and also will be given an opportunity to be present at the civic reception to H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught on Friday.

It was thought by the superintendent and the British Columbia Agricultural Association directors that the children, should they have but Friday for a holiday, would perhaps miss the opportunity of seeing the fair in order to see the royal party passing through the streets. To make it possible for the children to see both, the department, the fair authorities and the school board agreed on the day and one half holiday.

CITY SO FAR FREE

Men Alleged to Be Working Confidence Game at Fair Grounds Arrested

Despite the fact that Victoria is filled with visitors and that the fair is the attraction for many pickpockets and confidence men, the city has so far been free from offenders of this kind, there having been but one case reported at police quarters. Magistrate Jay this morning had an empty docket before him with the exception of the usual overnight inebriates. Not even a vagrant was presented this morning.

One report of lost money was made to the police last night when a man said he had been robbed at the Empress vaudeville theatre, Government street, of $75, which he said was taken from his pocket as he was entering that place of amusement. Although reported the thief has not been arrested and the police have no clue to the identity of the man. The robbery occurred in the crush caused by the people seeking to enter the theatre for the night performance. The man did not discover his loss until after leaving the theatre. He remembers having the money when about to enter the building.

At the show grounds yesterday two men alleged to be playing a confidence trick on the innocent public were arrested and taken in charge by the chief of the Oak Bay police. Their names are Phillips, and Livingston. The chief acted because he believed the men were operating a sure thing game, the public being asked to do an impossible thing according to the way the affair was rigged. The men were running a side show. It is claimed that they netted $50 from one, $32 from another and $30 from a third. When the individuals found they could not place the ring on the knife they complained and the men were arrested.

NEW PROBLEM FOR

CITY ARBITRATORS

Intricate Compensation Case
Over Pandora Avenue Widening Argued This Morning

A new phase in expropriation proceedings was brought to the attention of the arbitrators this morning by P.
McDiarmid, acting for the First Church of Christ, the owners of the south corner of Pandora and Chambers streets.

The actual value of the land, about $6,100, paid in compensation for the portion taken from the estate for Pandora avenue widening, was not in question, but the subject matter brought to the attention of the arbitrators was for them to determine, with a view to a stated case to submit to the courts, the "amount of taxation which will be placed on the property by reason of the local improvement taxation, to be assessed under the provision of the expropriation by-law." That amount Mr. McDiarmid was not able to give the arbitrators definitely, but he asked that whatever that amount should be, it should be the amount claimed.
Council had also to make a further claim that the corporation in the exercise of its powers having injuriously affected the property they were entitled to compensation, and release from the charges entitled to be assessed against the property for Pandora avenue extension, having in view the fact that the owners received no benefit from that extension.

The arbitrators visited the property in question, upon which a residence stands, and afterwards Mr. McDiarmid quoted Ontario cases bearing on the compensation law.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty Seekers

Lydia says: "I've tried most everything for my freckles, but can't lose them. What do you suggest?" See answer to "Stella." The treatment suggested I've never known to fail in any case of freckles or other cutaneous blemish.

P. J. K. asks: "Is there anything better than massage to remove wrinkles?" Too much massage may aggravate a wrinkled condition, tending to soften and loosen the tissue. I advise bathing the face in an astringent lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half-pint witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.

Stella writes: "My complexion is horribly muddy. What shall I do for it?" Get an ounce of mercurochrome at your druggist's. Apply this nightly like you'd use cold cream, washing it off mornings. This will cause the offensive cuticle gradually to make way, by a process of gentle absorption, for the clear, velvety, healthy-hued skin underneath—Woman's Realm.

PREMIER BORDEN AND SUFFRAGETTES

VERBATIM REPORT OF A FAMOUS MEETING

Miss Rachael Barrett Threatens Militancy in Canada, but Mr. Borden Does Not Wilt

Mrs. Bethie Lawrence, the celebrated English Suffragist leader, has furnished the Times with a verbatim report of the interview between Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden and a deputation of the Women's Social and Political Union in London on August 28. The deputation was headed by Miss Rachael Barrett, and the interview was as follows:

Miss Barrett: "We in our society are deputation is not to ascertain whether you are in favor of votes for women or not; we take it that you are in favor. Mr. Borden: "You must not take too much for granted."

Miss Barrett: "We in our society are practical politicians, and we want to talk to you as a practical politician, and the main object of this deputation is to ask you whether you will, on your return to Canada, announce that you are going to introduce and carry a measure giving votes to women on the same terms as to men. You are the prime minister of Canada, and the Women's Social and Political Union which we represent here to-day has an organization in Canada. We are not just a national association, but an imperial one, and these members in Canada have asked us to help them and to instruct them as to what they are to do in Canada in order to bring about the enfranchisement of women on the same terms as men. We have members who have emigrated there, and we have members there also who have joined after hearing Mrs. Pankhurst. Mrs. Tuckwell, who is here this morning, is a member of the Women's Social and Political Union in Canada. I think every member of this deputation has friends and relations in Canada, and for that reason, of course, we are deeply interested in the country, and we are convinced that the conditions there are not, and will not be, what they should be for women until women have an equal share in making the laws under which they have to live. We do not want to go into the reasons why women want the vote, but I think it is a matter of plain common sense, that if women had a proper share in making the laws and framing the conditions under which they live, those laws would be more likely to suit them, because women know better than anyone else can, what is good for them and for their sex."

Canadian Laws.
"Then I have to add that Canada is a great dominion largely in the process of building, and we feel convinced that it will be much better built if women have a share in it, and if they are recognized definitely as citizens. In this country we can give you many examples of how the votelessness of women has given rise to laws which are very unjust to women, but I am not going to trouble you with these today. I am not expert at all in Canadian affairs, but we are in communication with our members in Canada, and they write to us about laws over there, which are unjust to women."

Miss Barrett then gave some examples of such laws, and proceeded: "I should like, however, to point out that the object of this deputation is not primarily to deal with these laws. Even if these laws were all that we consider they ought to be, we should still want the vote, because we consider that to be the key to the situation. We are not primarily concerned with these reforms, but with the vote."

There is another side of the matter to which I wish to call your attention, and that is the condition of women in Australia and New Zealand. Now, we in our society hold a great many meetings, several thousands a year, and at these meetings we always talk of the good conditions which women have made for themselves in Australia and New Zealand, and I think it is a side of the question which Canadian statesmen have to consider. As the importance of women possessing the vote develops, it is reasonable to suppose that men who emigrate will consider that they are doing better to go to those colonies in which their wives and daughters are considered as human beings, and in which the vote gives them the opportunity to improve their conditions. We in our society have been definitely considering whether we shall not hold as part of our campaign a great propaganda, advising women not to emigrate to Canada, but to emigrate in preference to those colonies where women have made for themselves a better chance. I think that for a Canadian statesman is a very important side of the question. Then I want to turn to the movement in this country."

Mr. Borden interrupted here to say he did not wish to discuss a question which British people must settle for themselves.

The Government's Mistake.

Miss Barrett: "I should just like to point out that there is in this country a very great agitation for Woman Suffrage, which has become exceedingly acute and extremely inconvenient to this present government. They are finding it a very great problem, and I think it is regarded as a very serious menace to their existence. The woman's agitation has reached its present stage in this country largely because this government made the great mistake of ignoring it. They have made a very great mistake. I should like to impress you with this fact, too—the success of the movement is absolutely assured, and therefore, we hope, for the sake of the Canadian government, and for the sake of our women in Canada that the Canadian government will not make the mistake that our government here at home has made, and on your reply to us will depend very much the kind of advice that we give to the women of Canada. We shall definitely consider whether we send out women to Canada to join in a deputation there, and the nature of the deputation will very largely depend on the answer you give us this morning."

"I should like to add that there is no need to refer this question to the electors. The people concerned are not the present voters and, therefore, there is no need to refer the question to the electors of the country."

Miss Barrett concluded by saying: "This present government of ours is shirking its responsibility in this matter. It is refusing to adopt a definite attitude one way or another. We do not think that you will adopt such an expedient. We think you will assume full responsibility."

Other Speakers.

Mrs. Tuckwell and Miss Evelyn Sharp spoke on the subjects of the White Slave Traffic and the Imperial side of the question of votes for women, to which Mr. Borden replied:

Mr. Borden.

"You have asked me whether I propose to announce on my return to Canada that I will introduce legislation on the question mentioned. I can only say that at present I have no such intention, and for this reason: We have in Canada at the present time nine provinces, the legislatures of which absolutely control the franchise so far as those provinces are concerned, and so far as the provincial franchise in each of those provinces is concerned the parliament of Canada has absolutely no power whatever. In addition to that the parliament of Canada, for some fifteen years, has adopted and maintained a law under which the provincial franchise is made valid for the purposes of election to the parliament of Canada. If, therefore, I should go to Canada and announce what you suggest, I should be making a departure from the policy which has been in force in our country for more than fifteen years. It is needless to remind you that a departure of that character would require a little more consideration than I have been able to give it during the few moments at my disposal this morning—I mean the question whether or not we shall enact a general franchise law. As a matter of fact, until it had been taken into consideration, and until we had definitely decided to revert to the old practice, it would be manifestly impossible for me to make any such announcement as that which you suggest. The statement of affairs there briefly resolves itself into this: So far as the nine provinces are concerned, so far as we are concerned, we have to be convinced that it is expedient to abolish the law that has been in force for fifteen years, and to establish a general franchise law for electoral affairs throughout Canada."

Miss Barrett: "If you do establish that general franchise law, will you establish it so that women—"

Mr. Borden: "I am coming to that in a minute. So far as your affairs in the British Isles are concerned, with which I do not profess to be acquainted, that is a question entirely for the British Isles. I do not interfere with those matters, for the same reason that I would not expect the Prime Minister of England to come to Canada and interfere with those matters so far as we are concerned. It is a matter in respect of which the people of the British Isles, both men and women, must work out their own salvation. I would like to be permitted, with all respect, just to make one observation, that I think the women of Canada are sufficiently intelligent to judge of these matters for themselves. I should like to add that I should be most happy to receive any delegation from the women of Canada made by them for the purpose of laying before me their views and impressions, and I trust the time will never come when I shall decline to receive any deputation or delegation of that kind."

"I am not aware that the laws in Canada at the present time, or in any of the provinces, are unjust to women. Certainly, so far as the Dominion legislation is concerned, we should be most eager and ready to make any change in the laws in that regard if it can be demonstrated to our satisfaction that such injustice exists. Some reference has been made to the homestead laws. I can only say that so far as the homestead laws are concerned, if you have any representations which you would like us to consider, we should be very glad to receive them in writing."

Miss Barrett: "I merely mentioned these laws as an illustration."

Mr. Borden: "As you mentioned them I thought they were worthy of observation. You have made a contrast between the conditions in Canada and in Australia and New Zealand. I am not prepared to discuss that subject. We have endeavored to make our laws in Canada fair so far as it has been possible to do so, so far as our liberties have allowed, and we have no doubt that the people in Australia and New Zealand have done the same. An allusion had been made to emigration. I have a little to say with regard to that. If it seems good to your society or to any other society in Great Britain to give advice on that subject, that really is your own responsibility and your own matter. We shall endeavor to deal with our own affairs in Canada, according to what seems to us just and equitable, and the responsibility for any action which you may take in that regard will be your own and not ours."

Miss Barrett: "A mere statement of fact."

Mr. Borden: "My course in public life has been in the past, and I hope always will be in the future, to do what I deem to be right in the interests of the people as a whole, and any suggestion of that kind would not have the slightest influence upon me."

Miss Barrett: "I think it should have."

Mr. Borden: "I am perfectly willing to listen to reason and to arguments, and to weigh them with the greatest possible care."

Miss Barrett: "We pointed out that these things have happened in this country on account of the unstatesmanlike attitude of the government of this country, and I venture to hope that after this deputation you will have recognized that it is on their shoulders that the responsibility rests for effects having taken place. Like causes like effects. That responsibility will rest upon you in Canada." Miss Barrett then reminded Mr. Borden that he had not answered the question that the deputation had waited upon him to ask.

"If you do alter the general franchise law in Canada, will you alter it so as to include women on equal terms with men?" she asked.

Mr. Borden: "That is a matter to which we shall give our earnest consideration."

Facts About McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace

—The Understudy of the Sun—

The Fire-pot of the "Sunshine" is made of Semi-Steel—that of the ordinary furnace is made of Grey Iron. Here's the difference—Destructive sulphur fumes penetrate Grey Iron easily because it is porous. Semi-steel is not porous—it is a close-grained material with a smooth surface secretly processed by McClary's. Gas fumes cannot penetrate Semi-Steel therefore it lasts longer. The "Sunshine" Fire-pot is built in two sections joined together with our famous cup joint. The shape of this joint, combined with a layer of McClary's asbestos cement, makes it absolutely gas, smoke and dust-proof.

it and the ashes drop into the ash-pan. A child can easily rock the grates of a "Sunshine"—merely another reason why you should buy a "Sunshine" Furnace.

Ordinary furnaces are called coal glut-tions. There may be good reasons for that—we don't know. But—we have built the "Sunshine" Furnace so that it is very easy on coal. Hundreds of people now using the "Sunshine," and having used ordinary furnaces, declare that the "Sunshine" makes two tons of coal do the work of three. Evidently, the "Sunshine" Furnace saves coal and money.

The ordinary furnace has a water-pan hidden somewhere about the base. There, it cannot carry out the purpose for which the water-pan was devised. The water-pan of the "Sunshine" Furnace is placed scientifically above the Clearly, the "Sunshine" is the premier furnace as far as the Fire-pot is concerned.

The Grates of the "Sunshine" Furnace have three sides each. Plainly, they have three times the endurance of one-sided grates. Every time you rock down the ashes of the "Sunshine" you can expose a fresh side of the grate to the fierce heat of the fire—lengthen the life of the grates.

And the short, strong teeth of "Sunshine" grates simply grind up clinkers. The "Sunshine" Furnace is the best as far as grate construction goes.

Shaking an ordinary furnace is hard, back-breaking labor. You don't need to shake the "Sunshine"—you simply rock radiator near the dome—the heat laps up the water, before being diffused all over the house. It contains the same amount of moisture as the air of a balmy June day. Plainly, as far as the water-pan is concerned, the "Sunshine" is the furnace you should buy.

There are many more reasons why you should invest your money in "The Understudy of the Sun"—McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace. Call on the McClary agent and ask him to show you all the mechanical reasons and exclusive devices which go to make the "Sunshine" the best and therefore the cheapest furnace you can buy. PROGRAMME FOR THE VICTORIA CARNIVAL

Variety of Entertainment Will Be the Keynote of "Victoria Week"

A meeting of the Citizens' Committee was held yesterday at the Board of Trade rooms when a tentative programme for "Victoria week" was outlined by Alderman Cuthbert, the chairman, as follows:

Three days of aquatic sports. One day devoted to a military tournament in which every section of British Columbia shall be invited to participate.

A street parade with pageant features in which the ladies and the Trades and Labor Council shall be asked to join.

Baseball and lacrosse tournaments. A procession of illuminated boats up the Arm and the Gorge with confetti distribution.

Public baths at the chief hotels, upon well recognized social lines, but still preserving the festive spirit.

Motor boat races from Seattle to Victoria and from Vancouver to Victoria.

International yacht races. And generally a Mardi Gras, without any of the rowdy elements which mark such demonstrations in the big American cities.

It was stated that the programme was open to any amount of modification and suggestion, and already one feature has been proposed in the nature of an old boys' reunion for natives of Victoria scattered all over the world.

The decision at the last meeting of the Citizens' Committee was firmly ratified yesterday, and the following men were elected officers:

Honorary president, Hon. T. W. Paterson, the lieutenant-governor. Chairman, Alderman Herbert Cuthbert.

Treasurer, Mr. A. von Giersewald. Secretary, Mr. Randolph Stuart. Chairman of finance committee, Alderman H. S. Okeil.

Mr. Shallcross, president of the Board of Trade, assured the committee of his desire to assist it in any way possible. Endorsement of the Victoria week idea has been received from the Union Club, the Stock Exchange, B. C. Society of Architects, C. P. R. and G. T. R., the Premier, Real Estate Exchange, and several prominent firms in the city.

It was resolved to accept the invitation of the Flying Legion of San Francisco, to send down members of the Citizens' Committee to the reunion dinner to be held in 'Frisco on the second of next month. Randolph Stuart, the secretary, was deputed to represent the committee, with as many members as could get away to help him to talk Victoria in the Californian city, and to further the "Victoria Week" idea. Ald. Cuthbert announced his intention of going with the deputation, and other members also promised their assistance if they could get away. Those who intend to make the journey are requested to notify Mr. Stuart not later than 5 p.m. to-morrow, so that he may be able to telegraph the hosts in 'Frisco how many guests they will have.

In a communication to the committee the 'Festral Association of Portland expressed their willingness to take a part in the advertising of Victoria week and their intention to do all they can to make the yearly event a success.

CONFERENCE LOOKS TO CHURCH UNION

American Bishops Visit United Kingdom to Further Federation

A deputation from the Protestant Episcopal commission on a world conference on the Faith and Order of the Church of Christ, which has recently visited England, Ireland and Scotland in the interest of the proposed conference, was received most hospitably and with great encouragement. The deputation consisted of the Bishop of Chicago, the Bishop of Southern Ohio, the Bishop of Vermont, and the Rev. William T. Manning, D.D., of New York. Their conferences and interviews were confined to representatives of the Anglican communion in the British Isles, as the sole object of this preliminary visit was to enlist the co-operation and participation of the Churches of England and Ireland, and the Episcopal church in Scotland in the proposed conference.

The deputation conferred at Lambeth Palace with the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and with the Bishop of London, the Bishop of Winchester, the Bishop of Bath and Wells, the Bishop of Gloucester, Bishop Tucker, Canon of Durham, the Dean of Westminster (Bishop Ryle), the Dean of St. Paul's (Dr. Inge), the Dean of Ely (Dr. Kirkpatrick), and the Rev. Canon Walsham How. The Bishop of Oxford and other invited guests were unable to be present, but the Bishop of Oxford afterwards expressed his approval.

It was decided that the Archbishops of Canterbury and York should appoint a large committee, composed of bishops, priests and laymen, to represent the movement in England. The Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Bishop of Chicago were asked to draw up a memorandum expressing the conclusions at which the conference had arrived. Its main features are:

1. That the Archbishops of Canterbury and York appoint a committee in the Church of England to "organize, support and help in England," and "to stimulate general interest and regular and widespread prayer" in the matter of the conference.

2. That invitations to the various religious bodies in England to take part in bringing about and conducting the conference be extended to them by their co-religionists in America.

3. That the committee of the Church of England should "markedly hold itself in readiness to confer with such bodies or committees as may be appointed in the non-Episcopal churches; or, if so be, with those who might represent the Roman or Eastern churches."

4. The Archbishop of Canterbury expressed the opinion, which was concurred in by the representatives of the Church of England, that it would facilitate the matter of co-operation of the Church of England, if the American origin of the conference should be borne in mind, and the conference, when held, should be on American soil. This, however, was not, in any way, suggested by any of the American deputation.

The deputation had a conference in Edinburgh with the Primus of the Episcopal church in Scotland, accompanied by the Bishop of Glasgow, the Bishop of Moray and Ross, and the Bishop of St. Andrews. The conference took place at the residence of the Bishop of Edinburgh, although the bishop was detained in London and unable to be present. Unusual interest in the proposed conference was manifested by the Scottish bishops. At their meeting in October, as a House of Bishops, the matter will be formally considered. It is confidently expected that a commission will be appointed to represent the Episcopal church in Scotland.

The American deputation also had the privilege of many interviews with the Archbishop of Capetown. These took place at Bishopscourt, the residence of the Archbishop of York. The Archbishop of Capetown will bring the whole matter before the bishops of his province during the coming autumn.

In Ireland, the deputation conferred with the Archbishop of Armagh, the Bishop of Meath (Dr. Keene), and the Bishop of Down (Dr. D'Arcy). Here, as elsewhere, great interest in the undertaking was manifested. The Archbishop of Armagh will present the question of the co-operation of the Church of Ireland at the November meeting of the Bishops of the Irish church.

The members of the American deputation feel that their visit to the British Isles was productive of much good. It well illustrates the value of conference. A few days spent under the same roof and around the same table, asking and answering questions were worth more than months of correspondence.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED.

Old Fallacy That Drunkenness Cannot Be Cured Exploded.

Many men drink who desire to stop the habit. Whiskey, however, has undermined the constitution and created a craving that is not to be denied and the man must have whiskey or something that will remove the craving and build up the system and restore the nerves.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless and can be given with or without the patient's knowledge, in tea, coffee or food. It is used regularly by physicians and hospitals. It has cured thousands in Canada, and restored happiness to hundreds of homes.

Read what Mrs. G., of Hull, says of it and what it did for her:

"It is four months to-day since I started to use your remedy. I followed the directions and had the best of results. One week after I started using your remedy the patient stopped drinking and has not drunk a glass of liquor since. I hope you will accept my heartfelt thanks. Hoping God will bless your remedy wherever tried, I remain,

Mrs. G., Hull, Que."

A MIGHTY LIBERAL WAS SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT

Was Canada's "Rupert of Debate," Who Never Gave Nor Asked for Quarter—Close of a Notable Career

In the death of Rt. Hon. Sir Richard Cartwright, which occurred yesterday at Kingston, the battle ground of many a magnificent contest in which he crossed swords with Sir John A. Macdonald, another giant of Canadian public life has passed away. For nearly fifty years he was a conspicuous figure in the political arena of this country, and to a large extent his career has been the history of the Dominion in public affairs. Although of late years physical infirmity has prevented him from taking that active part in political contests and public discussion, for which his uplifting mental capacities amply qualified him, he retained his devotion to the welfare of his country, and interested himself in its progress to the end.

He had suffered greatly of late, involving painful difficulties in carrying on his official business, but he was too doughty a warrior to capitulate to physical pain, and died virtually in harness if not in office. In his prime he was in reality Canada's "Rupert of Debate." As a financial critic he was peerless and the exchange of broadsides between him and his particular opponent in the Commons, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, was one of the features of the parliament session. He had a mastery of figures that was dazzling, and illuminated his points with a wealth of illustration which came without effort from a well-stored mind. He was impetuous and fearless. His rapier was ever ready for skilful play and his destructive criticism had little to do with the debate of 1896.

Of late years he has been one of the prominent politicians in the Dominion declaring himself strongly for proportionate representation in parliament, and his address to the Toronto Liberals was called upon to form a government, and Mr. Cartwright became his finance minister. He gave a strong support to the ministry of which he was a leading member during the lean years of the administration when budgets were hard to balance. As the minister himself said twenty years later: "I was then charged with being reckless, over-confident, extravagant, and utterly indifferent to the position of the country. Now that is exactly what I have not been either then or now (1895). I had very good reason in 1878 for the confidence I then expressed that we were about to weather the storm, and weather it successfully." He defended the free trade idea when the effect of the competition of the United States was most insistent, but with the Mackenzie government was defeated on the appeal to the country in 1878. A few months later he found a seat at Centre Huron, but standing for Central Wellington at the general election of 1882 again experienced the vagaries of public opinion, losing his seat, and being kept out of the House of Commons until December, 1883, when he came back for South Huron. The next dissolution and appeal saw the commencement of his association with the South Oxford riding, which continued unbroken till he was called to the Senate in 1904.

Fiscal Debater.
During the long period in opposition he took the foremost place in debates on fiscal questions, and became one of the great debaters of his time. In one of his speeches just before he returned to office at the triumph of 1896 he said: "I do not pretend to say, and I do not believe that this country is going to sense at the time of the Diamond Jubilee in 1897, and several times since. He received the G. C. M. G. in 1879, and was sworn of the Imperial Privy Council in 1902.

In 1897 he was a delegate to Washington to promote better trade relations between Canada and the United States, and represented Canada on the Anglo-American Joint High Commission the following year at the Quebec conference. In 1899 he was at Washington in the same capacity. Sir Wilfrid offered him the lieutenant-governorship of Ontario in 1898 in succession to Sir Mortimer Clark, but this office was declined. He carried in that year through the Senate a measure in favor of old age annuities.

An Appreciation.

The following appreciation of Sir Richard Cartwright was written by Sir George W. Ross, a political conferee and fellow-senator; one moreover who knew Sir Richard intimately and is perhaps more qualified to write a personal sketch of him than any man living. The article appeared in the Toronto Globe:

A Veteran of Many Campaigns.
"Rt. Hon. Sir Richard Cartwright was one of the most distinguished figures in Canadian politics. His first appearance on the political stage was in 1863 as candidate for a seat in the legislative assembly of Canada for the old constituency of Lennox and Addington."

"Sir Richard came of good old U. E. loyalist stock. His grandfather, Hon. Richard Cartwright, came to Canada on the close of the revolutionary war, and after serving some time as secretary to Colonel Butler, of the Queen's Rangers, settled in Kingston."

"The Cartwright family was prominent in the early history of Kingston, and in easy circumstances. As a consequence, Sir Richard had all the advantages of a superior education. Not only had he the privilege of attending the best schools in Canada, but received what was then an exceptional privilege, a course at Trinity College, Dublin, so famous for its classical and literary courses of study. And so when he entered upon his political career he was far better equipped than the majority of his fellow members."

"Sir Richard Cartwright's parliamentary career covers the most interesting, and also the most eventful period of the history of Canada. For several years before he entered parliament the parties were so evenly divided that a few voters transferred from one side to the other involved a change of government. Appeals to the people were frequent and elections were conducted with more than ordinary political rancor."

"Out of this turmoil and unrest and bitterness came the most important change in the history of Canada. Apparently neither party could govern the country on existing issues. And unless some issue was presented large enough to command the confidence of both parties, political anarchy must follow. That issue was found in the proposal made by a committee of which the Hon. George Brown was chairman, that parliament should take measures to bring about the federation of all the British provinces of North America."

"It was in this school of strenuous and superheated politics that Sir Richard Cartwright received his early political education. His voice and vote were with the Conservatives. He had none of the characteristics of a trimmer. He did not even affect insincerity with his own party. When Sir John Macdonald led the government of the day, he gave him a loyal support, and when the coalition was formed to carry out confederation, he was equally loyal to the coalition. His speech in favor of the Union was one of the most interesting in that historical debate which led to the formation of the Dominion of Canada."

Left the Conservatives.
"In 1871, Sir Richard Cartwright practically withdrew from the Conservative party on grounds of public policy, and from that date allied himself with the Liberal forces in Parliament and the country. With his usual frankness, courage and sincerity, and never wavered in loyalty to his new affiliations. Like Gladstone, at one time the rising hope of the Tory party, once he cut the painter there was no desire for a renewal of old party alliances. His was no half-hearted decision. He had the courage of his convictions, and last year drew attention to this subject which has not so far received much notice in Canada. He pointed out at that time that Toronto Liberalism could not hope to receive representation without some change in the present system.

He started his political career as a Conservative, became a Liberal and fought with all his wonted vigor for Liberalism to the end. He has stood for years as a staunch free trader, and to the ministers of Sir John Macdonald's cabinet who always prided themselves on the success of the National Policy of protection, he was ready with arguments and criticism. Strong party man as he was, there were frequent times when he rose above party, and his speeches on those occasions were classics.

Born in Tory Surroundings.

Sir Richard Cartwright came of old Tory connections and traced his ancestry to United Empire Loyalist stock. He was born at Kingston, Ont., in 1833, the eldest son of the late Rev. R. D. Cartwright, and Harriett, a daughter of Conway Edward Dobbs, of Dublin, and at Trinity College, Dublin, he was educated. He studied law for a time, but abandoned this profession, and devoted himself to banking and finance, becoming a director and then president of the Commercial Bank of Canada, and a director of the Canada Life Assurance Company. In 1859 he married Frances, eldest daughter of Col. Alexander Lawe. He entered the Assembly of Canada in 1863 as member for Lennox and Addington in the Conservative interest, and took a prominent part in the movement for confederation. He was elected to the House for the county of Lennox in 1867 in the first Federal Parliament, and gave an individual support to Sir John Macdonald in his first ministry, breaking with him on the Pacific scandal of 1873.

At the extra session when Sir John resigned during the debate on the motion of want of confidence from the opposition benches, Hon. Alex. Mac-escape entirely scatheless from the results of sixteen years of folly, fraud, and falsehood. We must suffer for what we have done we must retrace our steps and be prepared to make some sacrifices in doing it. What those gentlemen have done is to put back the progress of Canada for a whole generation. We cannot, and we do not, pretend that we can give back to Canada her lost children, her lost legions. Nor is it in our power, except in so far as our example can redeem the past, to blot out the marks of shame upon the shield of Canada which these gentlemen's conduct have caused. Our motto is Justice to all classes!" He made on this occasion the important announcement which afterwards formed the object of the tariff policy of the Laurier government: "A considerable customs tariff must be enacted for some time to come, but it must be a just tariff, it must be no tangled mass of dishonest absurdities like the one under my hand, it must be something which is fairly and honestly framed for the purpose of bringing revenue into the treasury, and not at the dictation of protected manufacturers' associations, for the purpose of enabling them to divide with the government the plunder unjustly obtained from the public."

In the ministry of 1896 he became minister of trade and commerce, and remained at that portfolio through the sixteen years of the Laurier ministry, continuing in office after he was appointed to the Senate. A man of Sir Richard Cartwright's temperament could never be anything but a leader, and he was always regarded as one of the strong men of the party, a Nestor among the Liberals, looked up to as one of the few remaining older statesmen. Of late years he was government leader in the Senate.

During the Mackenzie regime he undertook several important missions to England for the government, and was acting premier during Sir Wilfrid's ab-

Have You Bought a Lot in Mt. Tolmie Park Estate

It is true that these lots of ours are situated in the best of the suburban districts; that they are good lots—not slim little metropolitan postage stamps—that they are grassy lots, level as billiard tables; that there is plenty of good, pure water; that several fine homes have been built already; and that there are desirable people living in them; that other houses are being built as rapidly as possible for people who have already bought lots; that the streets are large and well laid out and full 66 feet wide; that there is a good view, including Mt. Douglas Park and the lovely, picturesque valley; that part of the property is an orchard, and that a church and school are both close by; that the Mt. Tolmie car line, which now terminates at the University school, will be extended to the new city park before long, and that when it is, prices will never be within reach of the medium purse again.

FIRST SESSION OF FAIR HORSE SHOW

INTERESTING EVENTS CLOSELY CONTESTED

Samuel Kramer Gives Exhibition of Four-in-Hand Driving That Evokes Applause

While there might have been more entries in some of the classes judged at the horse show last night, there were at least half a dozen entrants in a majority of the events, and there was a very fair attendance on the part of the public, the boxes being well filled and half the public side of the ring holding spectators. In two classes there was only one entry in each and in one there were but two competitors. Jumpers, saddle and harness horses were there in plenty, and the competitions in these interesting classes was very keen.

A splendid exhibition of driving was given by Samuel Kramer, a horseman, of New York and Portland, who appeared with F. W. Leadbetter's four-in-hand from Portland. Mr. Kramer won the first ribbon from an exhibit of the Empress' tally-ho, handling his ribbons in the most approved style and circling his team about the ring to the edification and applause of the onlookers. The team he drove are the outstanding well-matched horses, harnessed to a brake, the horses gaining equal admiration to that accorded to the skill of the driver.

Five ladies appeared in the ladies' saddle class, four of them adopting the side saddle, and the fifth the divided habit style of riding. The award to Mrs. Cox, riding Lady M., exhibited by D. W. Webster was popular, while Miss Denny's mount, Warwick Lily, exhibited by E. Henderson, was another popular ribbon. The second ribbon was won by Royal Anjou exhibited by R. Ross Sutherland, Victoria.

In the girls' riding contest there was one entry, Miss Winnifred Henderson. The little girl had, however, no sooner secured her ribbon than the horse she was riding threw her over his head. She hung to the reins although thrown in the saddle, and did not let go until she was again in the saddle. In the boys' riding contest there were four competitors, the one who evoked the greatest applause being a tiny chap on a very small pony. When told to dismount the little chap threw his right leg over the horse's withers and slipped to the ground. Although the other competitors gained the official ribbons, the judges could not let the little boy go without recognizing the fact that he had entertained the spectators immensely and so awarded him a white ribbon as a remembrance of his first entry in riding competitions.

Leonard Tait, being the only entry in the double carriage team, was given the ribbon as a matter of course. His team was comprised of a couple of long rangy horses, fairly well matched, with flowing manes and tails.

The show was opened with speeches by the premier, Sir Richard McBride, and the president of the association, Dr. Tolmie. The former referred to the success of the previous shows, and to the interest given by the fact that many horses from the United States are entered for the competitions. Dr. Tolmie thanked the provincial government for the aid given in forwarding the spring show to success, and for the assistance of the government towards improvement in horse breeding. Last year 4,000 horses had been imported, he said, but believed that in the future this number would be lessened by the home breeding.

The official list of prize winners for last night's events is as follows:

Four horses, shown with bridle—F. W. Leadbetter, Portland. Team, Lady Tuck, Lord Nip, Squire Geneva and Don Pedro.

those who know his career, know also how severely his courage was on many occasions put to the test.

"Accordingly on the first session of the Second Parliament, Sir Richard was found in the front row of the Opposition side of the House, and immediately entered upon his career as one of the most brilliant as well as the most belligerent leaders of the Liberal party.

A Vigorous Speaker. "Physically, Sir Richard represented his English ancestry rather than the Irish strain in his descent—with massive shoulders, heavy frame and strong neck, he would have made a dangerous antagonist in the prize ring. And there was a very apparent suggestion of his physical qualities in his political speeches. Anyone who has seen him in his early days leading an attack or repelling an assault could not help but feel that behind the force of his oratory there was the physical force that could stand the shock of battle no matter how presented.

"As a public speaker, Sir Richard presented many striking elements worthy of imitation. He had the faculty of condensation and clearness in a remarkable degree. The matter of his speeches was well arranged and in a logical sequence that vastly facilitated his hearers in following his arguments. Moreover, his sentences were never involved, nor overloaded with qualifications or degrees, but followed each other in crisp, transparent terms.

An Addisonian Style. "He was one of the very few men who could be reported verbatim. No one would have pronounced Sir Richard an orator despite his purity of diction and felicity of expression. His addresses never appealed to the emotions of his audiences. It was Addisonian rather than Gladstonian. It lacked in passion, cadence and verve—it was distinctly intellectual and carried conviction, but it was not such oratory as would move the stones of Rome to mutiny.

"Seldom did he indulge in the soothing phrases of the forensic platform. He appeared to delight more in the word songs of the Vikings than in the pipes of Pan. And yet to those who knew him intimately he had all the gentleness and warmth of an English gentleman of the old school. His somewhat reserved exterior and abundant invective were no doubt constitutional but they did not detract in the slightest degree from the warmth of his friendship or from his gentility as a host.

The Mellowing of Age. "Sir Richard mellowed with his years. To compare his manner as a leader of the Senate with his manner on the firing line of the House of Commons would be like comparing the velvet glove with the mailed fist. It was the same hand, strong still, but no longer required for destructive purposes. His voice, too, lost a good deal of its incisiveness and its general tones became soothing and conciliatory.

"To the Liberal party Sir Richard gave his best years. In the dark days of the early nineties his voice was heard on many a battlefield encouraging his party to 'push the battle to the gates.'

"No leader ever showed more fully an unshakable spirit in all the fatigue and labor of political campaigns than did Sir Richard. Many a citadel that would have capitulated to the enemy was held by the inspiration of his courage and perseverance."

Shakespeare produced all his plays with about 1500 different words; Milton's range comprised about 4,000, and the Old Testament's limit is 5,000. A person of good education seldom exceeds 4,000, while many people are limited to about 200.

INVENTION OF NEW CRYPTOGRAM MACHINE

Astonishing Instrument Patented by Russian Officer Recommended by Czar

A Russian naval officer has just completed the invention of a machine which has long been desired by all who have occasion for secret communications by means of cryptographic codes. The machine is nothing less than an electrical automatic writer of a cryptic cipher and its complement, the automatic reader of the cypher, has also already been produced. Captain Soldatenoff, the inventor, recently gave an exhibition of the utility of his invention before the Czar and Czarina on board the Imperial yacht Standart. After a short explanation from Captain Soldatenoff, the Czarina wrote a short ciphered message by means of the first machine, which the Czar readily deciphered by means of the second machine. The Russian ministerial departments have already had sample machines in use, and in consequence of their general success patents have now been taken out for most European states and for America.

It was when engaged on writing dispatches as naval attaché in Rome, and subsequently for M. Muraviev, the Russian minister for foreign affairs, that the inventor first had the idea of a cipher machine. He was constantly finding errors and ambiguities in the different codes used, and consequently he determined to devise a code on a mathematical basis which should be, as it were, ever renewable—each succeeding message being written by a code which was a mathematical development of the code used in the preceding one. At last he compounded a code which satisfied him in this respect, as also in its clearness and infallibility.

Then, however, came the question of giving the invention a more practical shape, and it was decided by Captain Soldatenoff and his friend and supporter, M. Muraviev, that there was nothing for it but to produce a machine which should work automatically, and which should, metaphorically speaking, hold the secret of the invention locked in its breast. With financial aid from M. Muraviev, the inventor plodded away at his self-imposed task, and was undismayed as time and again machine-makers working according to his designs presented him with instruments that were quite useless.

Finally, with the help of two skilled French watchmakers, he produced a machine suitable for his purpose, and with a few months' further labor he presented a sample of this instrument was brought before the Russian minister of foreign affairs. It is understood that each pair of machines has a different cipher, and that each cipher is almost if not quite impossible to translate without the aid of the complementary machine. As the cost of production is very high, however, it seems probable that the machine will find use only in government departments and in the offices of the larger business houses.

IN DEFENCE OF RAILWAYS

(By E. W. Thomson.)

In the first place it costs more to "produce" transportation in northern latitudes than in warmer climates. Coal is higher, snowdrifts deeper, and it costs more to shovel both. It costs more to feed a locomotive or a man in the colder country. The man must wear warmer clothes; the engine consumes more coal and oil. If this increased cost of operation increased the efficiency of the locomotive or the man it would not be wasted, but both man and engine lose efficiency as the temperature drops. A freight train that can be easily started in summer will stick in the silt at forty below. It was away below zero for weeks last winter in Canada's prairie West.

Everything is going up—everything but the price of transportation. Increasing cost of living in the West is justly urged on behalf of repeated demands for better pay for labor. The same argument applies to a railway. The railway must "live"; it must even enjoy some measure of prosperity in order to give its workmen a living wage. As the trend of the times is toward better clothes for the man and his wife, so it is toward better equipment for the railway, smarter carriages, electric fans, and faster trains. Can the public reasonably expect the benefit of these betterments for no additional cost? The first Pullman car, the "Pioneer," operated on the Chicago & Alton, cost $2,000, and took two dollars for a single sleep. The traveler to-day sleeps in a car that may cost $20,000 for the same price charged in the "Pioneer." He can sleep in a first-class sleeper to-day or to-night for half the price charged in a first-class hotel. The Pullman company is supposed to enjoy a monopoly in America. It is not so. For years the Wagner company was a competitor. Even before the merger of those companies many railways operated their own sleeping cars. The railways tried to improve on the Pullman. The Pullman company took pointers and tried to improve on the improvements. So competition here, as in all branches of transportation, made for good service.

Canada is fortunate in having three separate, distinct and locally competitive railway systems. Competition between them will insure the best of service, not only in rates, but in facilities. Canada deserves such competition. The Dominion has been liberal in encouragement of the building of railways. Is Canada likely to be so unreasonable as to decline to share in the general prosperity of the Canada which they have helped to make? Should not railway rates rather ascend with wages and with taxes than go down? It is a mistake to make a "houn dawg" of the railways. The way to damage their service to the public—and the best service is what Canada intended to obtain when encouraging railway-building.

Recently the Grand Trunk Pacific

settled with section men at a minimum rate of two dollars a day. This will probably be the ruling rate in the Canadian West. A few years ago the daily toll of a track-man was only half that amount. Just as the price of all things going into "the mill" that produces transportation has advanced from thirty to fifty per cent. in the same time. Yet the price of this one product, transportation—the only thing the railway has to sell—tends downward from year to year.

If the rate is not obviously and directly reduced, the railway is asked to take new risks, to assume new burdens from time to time, so that the result is the same. Yet public sentiment has been worked up to indiscriminating hostility to "common carriers." As if in fear of this fictitious sentiment, commissions and boards, whose duties include the supervision and regulation of rates, show a growing tendency to establish a perpetual "open season" for hunters of railways.

In this, certain Canadians imitate thoughtlessly the worst American examples. This is unfortunate any-where, especially in a new country where empty unploughed fields between homesteads and only water tanks between towns.

Excuse for Higher Rates. In the sparseness of settlement there is obvious justification for a higher freight rate in the West than in the East. Is not a higher rate in Western Canada than in the Western States reasonable and necessary in view of the denser travel in those states? When prairie Canada obtains population and therefore travel as dense as the prairie United States, then the Canadian rates will be lower, since the climate of the Canadian Northwest is less "blizzardous," less cyclonic, than that of the American West.

Canadian railroad companies are not opposing hostile criticism to the suggestion that they must justify their western rates; they merely show how easy it is to justify them. Why assume the companies to be guilty of extortion? It is for their own interest to be as liberal as possible. Why not credit them with that? Surely the railway, the "first producer," the chief industry of this continent, if one except agriculture, the pioneer of civilization, the very pathfinder in industrial development, ought to be encouraged rather than discouraged. Along the railway's right-of-way, over twin strands of steel, courses the nation's commercial and industrial life.

While the railways make it their business to encourage commerce and industry along their lines, they themselves receive little encouragement from the business public. When prosperity blesses the land and the railways therefore increase their gross revenues, this fact is immediately instanced for higher wages, increase in taxation and the piling up of working conditions. Hence, although the gross revenues of a railway may be largely expended in the operating, so that they wipe out the net increase entirely.

A good example of this is found in the Interstate Commerce Commission bulletin of revenues and expenses of the railways of the United States for the ten months of the fiscal year ending April 30 last. Although the operating revenues of the railroads increased $32,330,258, the operating expenses increased $32,521,778. In other words, the railways paid $301,530 for the privilege of doing this vast volume of business! That's not all. To this increase in operating costs must be added an increase of $3,656,827 in taxes levied upon the roads by the states through which they pass.

The Tax on Prosperity.

One would suppose that any business which showed in ten months a gross increase of more than $32,000,000 ought to show at least a slight increase in net. But the net earnings of the American railways actually diminished $10,000,000 during this period—a million dollars a month! If we considered the business of the railway with the same measure of fairness employed when dealing with other industries we would agree that it is unfair to ask the railways to do all this extra business at a loss. Obviously, it cost the railroad something to carry thirty-two and a quarter million dollars' worth of traffic. Yet for each dollar of new business the railroads secured in the specified period they paid out $1.31.

Experts estimate that eight billion dollars will be needed in the next five years to maintain railroad facilities in pace with the enormous increase of traffic in the United States. In Canada the situation is even worse. We are just in the midst of railway construction. Vast areas in Canada, practically unsettled, but rapidly settling, must be supplied with transportation facilities. If you cripple the railways, reduce their revenue and destroy their borrowing power, who is to supply the billions needed in the United States and the millions required in Canada?

If there is drought in the land, feed is high and cattle scarce, the cost of producing a pound of beef is increased. But if the railways ask the right to raise the rate to cover part of the increased cost of producing transportation, all other branches of business combine immediately to prevent the increase! In the republic, this universal war on the railroad is carried through the nation, through the state, even down to the wards of a city. If a man is accused of robbing the railway, nine times out of ten he can rely upon a jury to acquit him. Canadian public men know this to be true—why should so many of them imitate the evil American example?

The railway managers of Canada all agree on one point, at least. They think that somewhere in the Dominion should arise a statesman big and broad and brave enough to urge the same fair, square treatment of the railway that is accorded to other industries. Unless this can be done, unless the railways are given a right to live, it is going to be as difficult to find money to provide railway facilities for the Dominion as it is to obtain means for the railways needed by the rest of the American continent.

In one year the number of passengers carried on the railways of the United Kingdom amounted to sixty-two times the population of Great Britain and Ireland.

"In Old Kentucky."

"In Old Kentucky," which comes to the Victoria theatre to-morrow evening, requires no lengthy introduction to playgoers of this city. For many years this romantic drama of the Blue Grass state has been a regular visitor here and has always been warmly received. The fact that it has held the boards year after year for twenty years, despite the opposition of counter attractions of later vintage, is an unqualified endorsement of its merits. "In Old Kentucky" is credited with being America's most popular drama. It certainly possesses that indefinable something that makes a distinct and lasting appeal to all classes of theatre-goers. "Madge," the heroine, is human in her unselfish love; "Joe Lorey," the moonshiner, is a manly, admirable character type; the "Colonel" is another true Kentucky product, gallant, breezy and affable; "Uncle Neb" is a type of the old-time Southern darkey servant, now about extinct; "Aunt Althea" is a lovable Southern maiden lady, past the prime of life—not the usual exaggerated stage "old maid"; Frank Layson is a splendid type of an upright young Kentuckian; in fact, all the characters shown in C. T. Dacey's popular play are well drawn and clearly defined. "In Old Kentucky" has rapid action, exciting episodes, an idyllic love romance and breezy humor, and a strong, clear-cut story. The pickaninies, and there are more than a score of them in the play, are an entertainment in themselves. They sing, dance, perform on musical instruments (as a complete brass band) and add a characteristic Southern flavor to the drama. "The Awakening of Helena Richie" Roselle Knott in "The Awakening of Helena Richie," one of the pre-eminent attractions of the American stage to-day, will appear at the Victoria theatre, Saturday, September 28. Owing to the massiveness of the production the curtain will rise promptly at 8.15 evenings, and 2.15 p. m. matinees. "The Awakening of Helena Richie" ran for one solid year in New York, nine months at the Tremont theatre, in Boston, seven months at the Illinois theatre in Chicago, and several months in Philadelphia, and this is its third tour, and within a short time it will have extended engagements in Europe and Australia, the same as it is now having in the United States. "The Awakening of Helena Richie" is a distinct novelty, insofar as its theme is concerned. The plot was conceived and written by Margaret Deland, and dramatized by Charlotte Thompson, and it is so brilliantly staged by Roselle Knott that the production must be classed as magnificent. Even in these days of lavish expenditure the settings are splendid. From the first to the last scene the stage settings and environments are rich, colorful and artistic, and the light effects beautiful. To write a play that will continue as a vehicle of popular entertainment throughout the vicissitudes and changing public moods, implies that it contains some particular elements that enable it to make wide appeal to a vast number of people, though as a matter of fact, it does not necessarily follow that such a play is a great piece of dramatic writing. On the contrary, the generally successful play in a majority of cases lives for the simple reason that it reaches the hearts of the people, that great mass of individuals who go to make the vast army whose approval and patronage is what makes the modern drama an assured fact. Such a play is "The Awakening of Helena Richie" as played by Roselle Knott, supported by Henry Hall, late star of Liebler's production of "The Man From Home." You must, in the long run, give the public the sort of plays it wants, and "The Awakening of Helena Richie" is one of them. Such plays are like rare jewels—difficult to get into one's possession—and then not always recognizable to even the most intelligent mind, until they have been examined under a strong light, which, in cases of plays, is to be found in public presentation. The public is a merciless critic, its palate is delicate and must be tickled with the sort of dramatic dish that will not clog nor leave an unpleasant taste behind.

The Empress Theatre.

"The Pool Room," one of the strongest dramatic sketches seen at the Empress theatre, which has long been noted for the excellence of the playlets on the circuit, heads the well-balanced bill being presented at the Government street vaudeville theatre this week. Charles Wildish and a company of five players present the little tabloid drama, the action of which takes place in a pool room. Mr. Wildish takes the part of a man addicted to the drug habit who has the crime of another on his shoulders and suicides. He plays the role in an artistic manner, and is given capable support by the members of his company.

John Delmore and Olive Adair offer some stage realism that the audiences seldom have an opportunity of seeing. Their act deals with the usually unseen part of the performance, namely, "Scenes Behind the Scenes." They come on the stage in street dress and are seen "making-up" in blackface for a minstrel act, which they present amid much laughter. The act is well staged and "equally well costumed." Two charming young women, Marie Hylands and Constance Farmer, who sing and dance equally well, offer a soubrette number, which has a charm all its own. Miss Farmer, who makes up as a "boy" has a fine stage appearance and her companion sings with a capital soprano voice. The two girls receive considerable applause and have to respond to many encores. Scott and Wilson, a duo of comedy acrobatic rube comedians, offer an act built for laughter purposes exclusively and it is obvious that it does not fail of its object.

MacRae and Levering are a couple of cycling comedians, who include both trick riding of a high class and comedy tumbling in their act, which heads the good bill provided this week.

Majestic Theatre.
"A Change of Spirit" is a big biograph. The change of spirit comes to a burglar after he has fallen in love. He has broken into the girl's house and what happens there shows him that his ways are not worthy. The breath of life has been put into his character in this instance, but it has been accomplished quietly. "Her Adopted Father" is a good story, tenderly told. "Revenge is Sweet" is a little horseplay between the office girl and the office boy. One of the girls put a wet sponge on Jimmy's chair. Jimmie found it—the sponge—all right, but he was a little late. One of the girls was a devotee of the puffbox. When Jimmy went out to get some cigars for the box he bought some lamp-black. "The Maple Sugar Industry" an Edison film shows the manufacture of maple sugar, from the boring of the tree to the consumption of the finished article at a maple sugar party. "A Day Off" shows two deceitful husbands taking a holiday and their experiences are most comical. Their wives turn the tables on them, however, and the result of their truancy is especially amusing. It is a reel full of real laughs. The British animated journal completes a good programme.

For hundreds of years the Nile floods have not varied ten days in their arrival.

Dr. Blau, a German army surgeon, has recommended the adoption by the military authorities of travelling crematoria for disposing of the bodies of those killed in action. Otherwise, he contends, the health of the troops and of the civil population may be seriously menaced.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

One of the most suspicious of human documents is the confession. A man's evidence for or against himself is not trustworthy, for the reason that in the very person he knows least.

In the good old days old women confessed themselves to be witches, and gave detailed accounts of their bargains with the devil. Everybody believed them, they believed themselves, and we very well know there was not a word of truth in their testimony.

Most confessions are due to mental suggestion. When the young criminal owns up that his downfall was due to reading penny dreadfuls, he is simply repeating a theory he has heard. When the man says "All I am I owe to my mother," that is also a fine phrase he has heard. How does he know to whom he owes what he is?

I am impressed by the untruthfulness of Rousseau's "Confessions." He was obsessed by a mania of self-acquisition. He did not know how good he was.

A confession is no more than a point of view, the expression of a mood. It is the interpretation of a soul by itself, and it should understand itself as little as a soul understands the universe. The law is that no man is compelled to give evidence incriminating himself. The truth is that he is altogether incompetent witness for or against himself.

AT DUNCAN FAIR

KEEN COMPETITION IN ALL DEPARTMENTS

Cowichan Agricultural Association Will Erect New Building and Enlarge Grounds

The closing day of the annual fall fair of the Cowichan Agricultural Association at Duncan saw the largest crowd that has ever attended. More than two thousand having passed through the gates. The gate receipts were $23 and there are over four hundred family membership tickets. Of the different departments it would be hard to mention any as deserving of special praise for all seemed to be very well managed. The vegetables were very good with a very large entry list. The fruit also attracted a great deal of attention, while flowers were above the average. Out door grapes of delicious flavor, melons of many varieties, and good peaches, were shown. The Island Lumber Company as an advertisement had built a room piled with red cedar, spruce and Douglas fir most excellently finished. The only accident that marred the day was in the sports when one of the horses refused the jump and went in the crowd. Mrs. Jaynes, Miss Muriel Price and Mr. C. Bazett were hurt, but not very seriously.

The management of the show was in the able hands of the secretary, Howard Fry.

Each succeeding year the shows are larger and the hall and grounds of the society are less and less adequate. Steps are being taken to enlarge the grounds and to put up a suitable building for the society. There has been a movement on foot to utilize the building about to be put up to house an athletic club of the young men of the district, the public library, and probably other public clubs as well as for an Agricultural hall.

During the day music was supplied by the Duncan band.

Prize winners in addition to those which have already been published follow:

CATTLE

The classes for dairy cattle were particularly strong and more than a hundred head were entered. The Jerseys were exceptionally well represented and in the class for yearling heifers twenty-one took the ring. The judge, Mr. Gibson, of Victoria, had his work cut out to deal with them. The chief honors went to Fry & Taylor of Duncan, who practically swept the board winning everything for which they competed in the Jersey classes except bull calf, being beaten by a sturdy animal belonging to Mrs. Bradley-Dyne. In addition their bull took championship honors over all breeds. This bull is a magnificent specimen of the Jersey breed and was brought to British Columbia by Messrs. Fry & Taylor from Eastern America. Messrs. Fry & Taylor also took Champion Female any age for the Jerseys.

Beer Exposed to Light for 5 Minutes Becomes Undrinkable

This is not our statement, but the deliberate opinion of one of the most renowned scientists in the world. Read the entire statement:

"We have tested beers repeatedly, placing the bottles in the direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed. The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are, therefore, recommended."—Wahl-Hentus Institute of Fermentology.

It is not enough that beer be brewed pure, it must be kept pure.

Many Americans prefer beer in a light bottle. Most brewers follow the course of least resistance.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. Schlitz is sold in Brown Bottles to protect its purity from the brewery to your glass.

Coppers and Steel Shares
Lead in Upturn—Slight Reaction Near Close

(By Courtesy F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, Sept. 25.—While realizing sales were quite heavy the market discussed the same in good fashion, and resumed the advance under leadership of the coppers and steel. Many have been waiting for a reaction, and such was seen in moderation near the close, but seemingly the interest responsible for the current upturn are not disposed to permit recessions of consequence at present. Distiller stock and Harvester both sold ex-dividend.

Interest Turns to Portland Canal Issues—Sales of Coronation Gold Shares

Victoria, Sept. 25.—The temporary steadiness in Coronation Gold stock has the tendency to induce some little selling, especially by those holders who bought around 35 to 40c. A board lot sold at 50c this morning, with a last bid of 49. Some interest appears to be focussing on Portland Canal issues, Glacier Creek being in demand at 3c, and Stewart Land at 11.00. The coppers were strong, Granby closing at 25 1/2 at 40c. Later in the day this stock sold in Boston at 35.00.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

Winnipeg, Sept. 25.—The market was weak and declining, but extremely active, due to heavy offerings. More noticeable than the break in options was the sharp decline in cash wheat. The price was herebefore held up as there are certain bottoms to fill and contract wheat is scarce. Now the new crop is pouring in, there is a good export demand, but shipping is unobtainable. Oats have held steady and flax is a little stronger. Receipts, 47 inspected, 300 in sight.

Whilst we do not depreciate ranges, stoves, etc., of other makes, we think the fact that there has been sold upwards of 300 "Buck" Ranges in Victoria alone during the past six months, and that the "Buck" people are the largest and oldest manufacturers on the American continent speaks for itself.

RHODES SCHOLARS ARE POPULAR AT OXFORD

Dr. George A. Parkin Talks on Ideal of Founder—Will Publish Book in November

The idea which has been circulating in the press of this country and of England that the Rhodes scholars at Oxford do not fit in with the other students was dubbed absurd by Dr. George A. Parkin, C.M.G., the secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust, who arrived here last evening.

Dr. Parkin was very emphatic in his denial and he is probably in a better position to give an opinion than any man living. He stated that in his visits to all the colleges he had found the Rhodes men popular both with professors and students. Oxford was pleased with them, and after all that was the best test.

He thought that one of the most encouraging things in the whole idea was the way in which the Rhodes scholarships had attracted other Canadians to Oxford. In addition to the Rhodes scholars at present in residence, there were as many more paying their way through the institution, and that helped on the imperial idea.

Dr. Parkin stated that he had been through every part of South Africa and Canada during the last two years. He alluded to the great university which was being built on the picturesque heights overlooking Table Bay, which was the only site for an institution of the kind.

The Unification Ideal. In speaking of the lofty motives which prompted the great Empire-builder, Cecil Rhodes, in the founding of the scholarships, Dr. Parkin said: "The great, broad ideal that he had in his mind was the unification of the English-speaking race. In founding scholarships in the United States Cecil Rhodes aimed at encouraging the English and the American peoples to come to a better understanding of each other. He wished the Americans to get a better comprehension of the English ideal of world peace, and the English to know the minds of their cousins across the water more truly than they have in the past."

"Our men find their true level in the English university," went on Dr. Parkin. "The English standard is very high, of course, and among the thousands of clever men at the great university it is tremendously hard for a man to gain distinction either in work or sport. Many of them, however, have
